Green Beret Murder Case

Army Identifies 'Trigger' Man

SAIGON (AP) — The Army disclosed more details of its son, S.C. and David E. Crew, 33, murder and conspiracy case of Cedar Rapids, Iowa—were accused of the murder even today, naming a 27-year-old intelligence specialist as the trigger man in the execution of a reported Vietnamese spy.

Against strong objections of from defense attorneys that it would prejudice the case, military officials made public the charges in which all six men (Okla., and Budge E. Williams, are accused of plotting and carrying out the slaying last June 20.

The documents named Capt. Robert Francis Marasco, 27, of Bloomfield, N.J., as the man who fired the pistol shot that killed Thai Khac Chuyen after it was discovered that he was a double agent working for the North Vietnamese as well as for the Americans.

The three top-ranking officers in the case—Col. Robert B. Rheault, 43, of Vineyard Haven, Mass., former commander of the 3,000 Special Forces troops being that "in order to effect in Vietnam, and Majors Thomas

He allegedly helped Brumley carry the victim to a boat at Nha Trang, the Special Forces coastal headquarters 300 miles northeast of Saigon.

Brumley is alleged to have given the doomed man a shot of morphine, after which Marasco, the charges said, "did shoot Thai Khac Chuyen with a pistol."

Chuyen's body then allegedly was weighted with chains in a sack and dumped in the South China Sea.

Hours after the charges were set forth, South Vietnam President Nguyen Van Thieu made his first public comment on the case—denying reports that the

U.S. Pullout Plan Gets Thieu's OK

S. Vietnam To Build Up Its Strength

'A Darn Good Place'

He Likes It Here

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu indicated today that a large number of American troops could be withdrawn from Vietnam in 1970 beyond the 60,000 already ordered redeployed this year.

Thieu told a news conference in Vung Tau that the South Vietnamese armed forces plan to increase strength by 150,000 to 200,000 men next year.

He said, however, that before more American troops can leave, the United States must meet the South Vietnamese armed forces requirements for "material, funds and a reasonable time for training and leadership."

Thieu told a news conference in Vung Tau that he would ask President Nixon soon how many more troops the United States wants to withdraw next year. He said he would try to meet Nixon's wishes.

Thieu did not disclose how many American troops could be withdrawn next year. However, Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky said last week that 150,000 to 200,000 American troops could be withdrawn by the end of 1970.

Cut in Ceiling

The first round of U.S. troop withdrawals, 25,000 men, was completed last August. The second round, which will number 35,000 troops and be completed by Dec. 15, began six days ago. The current pullout, ordered Sept. 16, will cut the authorized ceiling of U.S. troops in Vietnam to 484,000.

Meanwhile the U.S. Command reported that American battle-field deaths in Vietnam so far this year total 8,185—a 33 percent decrease from the corresponding 38-week period of 1968. This is an average of 215 deaths a week.

Last year, the command said, 12,214 Americans were killed, or an average of 321 deaths a week.

The U.S. Command made the announcement after President Nixon said Friday at a news conference in Washington that "American casualties are down one-third from what they were over the same nine-month period last year."

Nixon also said the "infiltration, which tells us a lot about the enemy's future capabilities, looking at the first nine months so far this year, is two-thirds less than what it was in the corresponding period last year."

Saigon sources said they estimate that 100,000 North Vietnamese troops will have infiltrated into South Vietnam by the end of the year. The sources said about 250,000 North Vietnamese infiltrated in 1968.

On the battlefield, American forces backed by dive-bombers and helicopter gunships killed 72 enemy troops in three actions Friday ranging from 13 miles south of Saigon to 33 miles northwest of the capital city. U.S. losses in the three clashes were reported at three killed and 10 wounded.

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A Wisconsin industrialist who looked for greener pastures in Chicago says the old Badger State is a lot more than it's cracked up to be.

Robert F. Draper, now executive vice president of Sunbeam Corp. of Chicago, said Friday that Wisconsinites currently complaining about increased sales taxes, welfare and property taxes are forgetting that they are simply providing themselves with good education and fine recreation.

"Wisconsin is a darn good place to educate my kids," he told the Wisconsin chapter of the Public Relations Society of America. "If you don't know, like someplace else for a while."

"If you want to have quality education, highways, parks, employment programs and so forth, you have to pay for it," he said.

Draper, former Milwaukee president of a Sunbeam subsidiary, said other states have worse tax problems than those about which Wisconsin taxpayers are complaining.

"We in Wisconsin are too occupied with the negative aspect of things that are going on," he said.

Vietnam Policy Dissent

Congressmen to Join Oct. 15 'War Boycott'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two dozen Democrats in Congress are preparing to ally themselves with students in escalating the kind of Vietnam policy dissent which has drawn President Nixon's rebuke.

Twelve senators and 12 House members have agreed in general terms to support the plans of students for an Oct. 15 boycott of classes to protest the war.

The congressional dissenters agreed Friday that on Oct. 8, one week before the student protest, they will propose a resolution seeking U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam.

One participant said the resolution would not set a flat deadline, but would advocate a systematic pullout.

Speaking Platforms

Sens. Frank Church of Idaho and George S. McGovern of South Dakota, and Reps. John Brademas of Indiana and Morris K. Udall of Arizona are to draft the proposals.

An effort also is planned to get as many senators as possible onto speaking platforms Oct. 15. One senator said that would be designed to cut attendance to the point where the Senate couldn't do business that day.

Sen. Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma, the Democratic national chairman, arranged the Friday conference where the plans were drawn.

Resolution Studied

Meanwhile, Sen. Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore., was said to be conferring with colleagues on the possibility of a withdrawal resolution, timed to coincide with the Oct. 15 observance.

Hatfield and Harris both were reported seeking bipartisan participation.

Sen. Charles Goodell, R-N.Y., already has proposed legislation to put a Dec. 1, 1970, deadline on U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam. President Nixon told a news conference Friday that such cutoff proposals undercut and destroy the U.S. negotiating position.

"Some Incentive"

With backing for his policy at home, Nixon said, "the enemy will have some incentive to negotiate, recognizing that ... it is not going to win its objective by waiting us out ..."

Nixon said by following this course, "we will end this war before the end of 1970."

Harris called that statement "the same old thing we've heard before."

Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, new Republican leader, praised the Nixon statement—even though the rebuke seemed aimed at least partly in his direction.

Scott has suggested half the U.S. forces be withdrawn by the end of 1970.

But the GOP leader issued a statement saying "I have not engaged in any precise demands ... 'I am solidly behind the President's policy of realism in the search for a just and lasting peace.'"

Talks Worthwhile

Rogers, Gromyko Plan 3rd Meeting

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.

(AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko are finding enough worthwhile in their Mideast talks to meet once more privately before they leave New York.

The explosive Middle East situation dominated their 3 1/2-hour dinner discussion Friday night. It was supposed to be their second and last meeting during the U.N.'s fall session.

But with more ground to cover on guidelines toward an Arab-Israeli settlement, plus other unfinished business, the two men agreed on a third meeting expected to be held Tuesday.

Rogers told newsmen "I'm not discouraged" by the Mideast discussion so far, but refused to say more than, "We hope that progress can be made."

The general U.S. tactic is to arrive at the broadest possible areas of agreement with the Soviets, promote more effective Big Four power assistance toward a settlement and encourage Arab-Israeli negotiations through U.N. mediator Gunnar Jarring.

Rogers and Gromyko spent about half their time Friday night at the Soviet U.N. mission alone without aides or interpreters—Gromyko speaks good English.

Government Resigns

Purge Ends as Expected: Dubcek Made a Scapegoat

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovakia's government resigned today in a sweeping purge of liberals by the nation's Communist party.

The men swept out were followers of Alexander Dubcek, who held power when the Soviet Union led an invasion of Czechoslovakia in August 1968.

Premier Oldrich Cernik's Cabinet of 18 ministers and 7 undersecretaries resigned unanimously, but Cernik was asked by President Ludvik Svoboda to form a new government, CTK, the Czechoslovak news agency, reported.

Cernik and Svoboda were members of Dubcek's old regime.

Dubcek's Errors

The purge of government and Communist party officials was ordered at the end of a two-day probe by the Communist party Central Committee into alleged errors under Dubcek before the Soviet invasion.

An announcement said full details of personnel changes directed by the party would be made public Sunday.

Other party actions included a new analysis of the Soviet invasion, placing the major blame on Dubcek policies and apparently removing Dubcek from the 11-member party presidium.

A minister of the Czech state government said there had been "sweeping personnel changes" in party and government and virtually confirmed that former party chief Dubcek had been downgraded again.

Dubcek, 47, led the 1968 campaign to give communism "a human face." For the past month he has been the target of an officially inspired press and radio campaign accusing him of policies that made the invasion inevitable.

The party communique said 25 persons addressed the session in Prague Castle and the discussion "helped clarify past developments and future orientation of party work."

One of the speakers was Dubcek. In answering the charges against him it was not known to what extent he defended himself and how far he went in admitting errors.

Tieman Sets Pace

GBW Beats Rockets

GREEN BAY — A massive rushing assault, featuring hard-running Don Tieman and fleet Bill Mommaerts, produced 299 yards and a 31-12 Fox River Valley Conference triumph over Neenah at Lambeau Field Friday night.

In failing to avenge last season's only setback, the Rockets saw their record level off at 2-2 while the Wildcats now show the same mark.

The Bays carried only a 13-6 lead into the last stanza but in the frame they came up with three touchdowns, two after Neenah miscues, to stow away the victory. In all, they intercepted three passes and recovered two Rocket fumbles, one on the last play of the game.

Tieman broke through the Neenah defense for 195 yards by rushing in 30 attempts, including 146 in the first half, while Mommaerts collected 109 in 17 carries. Each scored a pair of touchdowns.

The Green Bay defense halted the Twin Citians at 53 yards rushing but they chalked up 126 through the air lanes on eight completions in 19 attempts. They could have done better except several potential ground gainers were dropped.

Sudden Thrusts

The fourth quarter was one of sudden scoring thrusts. During one span of less than a minute, three touchdowns were racked up on the big scoreboard, West accounting for two.

The Cats, who had scored on the second play of the last period, added another touchdown after a pass interception for a 26-6 score with 9:31 left in the game.

Neenah's Bob Block then made the most spectacular run of the night, bringing the next kickoff back 95 yards for its final touchdown.

Recovers Short Kick

The Red and White tried a short kick but West recovered on its 41 and on the initial lay, Mommaerts, a sprinter on the track team, swept 59 yards for a 6-pointer with 8:55.

Although Neenah never had the lead, it only trailed, 7-6, until 1:10 left in the first half when the Bays climaxed a 79-yard drive with Tieman's 14-yard blast through the right side.

West started to drive after the opening kickoff but lost the ball on a fumble on Neenah's 41 while a march a few minutes later ended in Dave Peot's missed field goal from the 29.

The victors went 52 yards in seven plays for their first score in their third shot at the ball, Tieman tallying from the one. Peot booted the first of his three extra points.

Hawley to Arpin

On the initial play after the kickoff, Neenah halfback Pat Hawley and end John Arpin, who made three nice receptions totaling 96 yards, combined on a

Starr Ready

Packers Seek to Keep Undisputed Lead in Division

By BOB GREENE
MILWAUKEE (AP) — Standing all alone atop the Central Division standings, the Green Bay Packers Sunday will attempt to increase their lead in the march toward their fourth National Football League championship in five years.

The Packers will meet the San Francisco 49ers at 1 p.m. (CDT) at Milwaukee County Stadium, the second consecutive Green Bay "home" opener.

With all other Central Division teams losing last week, the Packers moved out front with a 17-0 victory over the Chicago Bears. This week, Minnesota meets powerful Baltimore while Chicago takes on St. Louis and Detroit plays surprising New York.

While the Packers are shooting to run their record to 2-0, they are not forgetting last year when the 49ers scored 20 points in the final period to pull out a 27-20 victory and knock Green Bay out of a chance for the division title.

On Schedule

Molding experience with youth exhibition contests, then jelled brought his team along on schedule. Following a last-second victory over the New York Giants to start pre-season play, the Packers lost to Chicago and Dallas while Bengtson was taking a good look at all of his troops and trying different combinations.

Green Bay swept its final three exhibition contests, then jelled magnificently in the Chicago victory last week. The Bears' Gale Sayers was contained for only 36 yards in 10 carries, and the closest Chicago came to scoring was on a 50-yard field goal attempt by Mac Percival as the game ended.

Quarterback Bart Starr, who sprained his instep last Sunday, is expected to be ready to play against San Francisco, as is tight end Marv Fleming, who bruised his shoulder.

However, if Fleming is unable to go, wide receiver Boyd Dowler will move over and Donny Anderson, the disgruntled punter, will probably take over the flanker spot.

Definitely out is reserve line-backer Jim Flanigan, who broke his arm on Percival's aborted field goal attempt.

Four 49ers are in the probable category. Center Forrest Blue and cornerback Kermit Alexander are still recuperating from knee injuries, while Jim Johnson hurt his wrist and defensive end Bill Belk his ankle.

John Woitt is the backup man for both Johnson and Alexander, and Tom Hart could replace Belk. Lance Olssen is the reserve center.

A packer victory would even the all-time series record between the two NFL clubs at 17 wins each and one tie.

Bucks, Suns Duel Tonight In Exhibition

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The two top newcomers to the National Basketball Association face each other here tonight when the Milwaukee Bucks and the Phoenix Suns open their exhibition seasons.

Operating at center for the Bucks will be 7-foot-2 Lew Alcindor, the three-time All-American from UCLA who has been highly impressive in early walk-outs.

Starting at forward for the Suns will be Connie Hawkins, voted the most valuable player in the rival American Basketball Association last year and the man Alcindor has called the best player in the game.

Milwaukee and Phoenix were the two worst teams in the NBA last season. The two newcomers mean brighter days ahead for both clubs

Later in the first half Central recovered a Menasha fumbled on a fumble on the Zephyrs' 17, had pass from center on a punt. John Farley ran to the two.

St. Mary's kicked off to start the second half and Central returned the ball to its 34. On third and 10 Karasti jaunted 66 yards for the last score of the game.

Florida State Wins Over Miami, 16-14

MIAMI (AP) — Grant Guthrie's third field goal of a close, error-filled football game brought Florida State from behind with 1:55 to go Friday night to a 16-14 victory over the Miami Hurricanes.

Bill Capieman drove the Seminoles from their own 10 into position for the winning kick after Miami had gone in front in the fourth quarter on a five yard touchdown pass from David Teal to Rick Strawbridge. Miami breezed to a first period 7-0 lead on an 85 yard, 11-play drive climaxed by sophomore Tom Sullivan's one yard dive over the goal.

Then, in rapid succession, a blocked field goal and two Miami fumbles inside its own 20 enabled the Seminoles to rack up 13 points and take a 13-7 margin into the final quarter.

Sullivan's downing of a Florida State punt on the Seminole one led to the touchdown that put Miami in front with 9:04 left in the game.

Frank Whigham's punt carried out only to the 33 and Teal, who had replaced Lew Pytel in Miami's battle for the quarterback spot at the start of the second half, led the Hurricanes to the score.

Kimberly Takes Sole Lead, As Ghosts Shock Raiders

Papermaker Gridders Rip Shawano

BY ED VAN BERKEL
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

KIMBERLY — Scoring in every period, the Kimberly Papermakers rolled to a 36-0 win over Shawano here Friday night thereby taking over sole possession of first place in the Mid-Eastern Conference as the Two Rivers Raiders were upset by Kaukauna.

So convincing was the Kimberly win, the Shawano Indians finished with a minus 15 in rushing yardage although 72 yards in the passing column enabled them to finish with a net 57.

Kimberly meanwhile, led by Tim Vander Velden, ran up 185 yards on the ground and another 202 through the air. Vander Velden finished with 108 yards in 18 carries, besides being on the receiving end of a Dan Blajeski aerial.

The Papermakers proved to be their own worst enemy in chalking up the win as they were whistled for 13 violations for a total of 100 yards in penalties.

Cover 62 Yards

The hosts scored the first time they got their hands on the ball, covering 62 yards in six plays, big gainer being a 35-yard pass from Blajeski to Rob Ristau. Vander Velden barged over for the score from five yards out with 6:41 left in the opening period. He also ran for the 2-point conversion and an 8-0 advantage.

The Indians managed two first downs after receiving the kick, but a fumble by the quarterback was recovered by Greg Van Grinsven, his first of two, on the Kimberly 39 to set up the second score. Vander Velden and Jim Rusch roared holes through the Shawano line and Blajeski hit Jim Gage and Vander Velden on pass plays, the latter good for 10 yards and the score. Rusch ran over the PAT for another two points with 17 seconds left in the first period.

Penalties kept Kimberly from moving the next time it took over the ball, but two plays after a punt Van Grinsven recovered his second Shawano fumble to give the winners

Joe Louis Perplexed by 'Mental Letdown' Reports

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Joe Louis read about his "complete mental letdown" Friday and was not angered, just perplexed. After a while, he laughed.

"I'm fine," the former heavyweight boxing champion said. "That's all I know. I checked my own self into the hospital because I had a week off is all. I'm just taking care of myself, seeing I don't get fatigued anymore."

The 56-year-old bomber left Detroit's Henry Ford Hospital Thursday for Wichita Falls, Tex., where he spent the night refereeing a wrestling match. He did the same here Friday night.

"Dr. Bennett has always been my doctor and I don't know what he said or anything like that. All I know is there's nothing wrong with me."

Dr. Robert C. Bennett had been quoted as saying psychological and neurological tests were being conducted on Louis at Henry Ford to determine the cause of "an emotional and mental letdown."

"Not as pleasing as it should be," said Phil Niekro.

That's what brotherly love will do for you.

Cepeda, you see, unloaded on Niekro's brother, Joe, with a grand slam homer that triggered the Atlanta Braves to a 10-4 victory over San Diego Friday night and lowered their magic number in the National League West to four.

Of course, Phil wasn't entirely innocent. He hurled eight innings for his 22nd triumph and started the Braves' big six-run third with a single, one of his three hits.

Elsewhere, San Francisco, 1½ games behind Atlanta, kept pace with a 2-1 triumph over Los Angeles. Cincinnati took two from Houston 3-0 on Jim Maloney's one-hitter and 4-3, the East Division champion New York Mets blanked Philadelphia 5-0, Pittsburgh tripped the Chicago Cubs 2-0 and St. Louis shelled Montreal 12-1.

Take 3-0 Lead

The Padres, who have been playing their role as spoilers to perfection, jumped to a 3-0 lead against the Braves on Ivan Murrell's two-run single in the first inning and Tommy Dean's homer in the second.

But singles by Phil Niekro, Felix Millan and Tony Gonzalez loaded the bases for the Braves in the third and a one-out walk to Rico Carly forced in the first run. Cepeda then smacked his big blow, the fifth grand slam of his career and 22nd homer of the season, finishing Joe Niekro. Clete Boyer homered off Frank Reberger for the final run of the inning.

"It feels great to see those boys going around in front of you," Cepeda said. "It's a wonderful feeling."

But Niekro felt for his brother.

"It was the hardest game he ever had to pitch," Phil said. "He wants us to win the pennant as bad as we do. He was in one hell of a bad spot."

Phil said he doesn't like to pitch against Joe, although this was the fourth time the brothers have faced each other.

"That's far enough," said Phil. "I've won two games and he's won two. That's enough."

Hank Aaron drilled his 44th homer in the fourth—one short of his career high—and the Braves added two in the fifth and one in the seventh. Phil Niekro gave way to Hoyt Wilhelm after eight innings.

Ed Popowski Directs Bosox to Another Win

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

If things keep going the way they have been, Eddie Popowski could become the first manager in the history of baseball to leave his job without ever having lost a game.

Popowski was named to lead the Boston Red Sox over the final week of the season after Dick Williams was fired last Tuesday. He was, the Red Sox said, strictly an interim manager with a new permanent man to be named after the season.

It has been a most interesting interim for Popowski.

The Red Sox have won four straight games since the change, the most recent a 6-5 decision over Detroit Friday night which moved Boston into a second place deadlock with the Tigers in the American League's East Division.

Elsewhere Friday night, Washington dropped Cleveland 4-1, New York trimmed Baltimore 4-2, Kansas City defeated Chicago 5-3, Oakland topped California 3-1 and Seattle took Minnesota 4-3 in 14 innings.

Most of Damage

Rico Petrocelli, one of Popowski's star pupils when the Red Sox' interim boss was a fulltime minor league manager, did most of the damage against the Tigers.

He tagged a pair of doubles, driving in three runs including the tie-breaker in the seventh inning. That gave the heavy hitting shortstop 95 runs batted in for the season.

Mike Andrews opened the game with a home run for the Sox.

Lee Maye's fifth inning grand slam homer accounted for all of Washington's runs as the Senators beat the Indians.

Maye connected on a 3-2 pitch with two out after Washington had loaded the bases on three walks. The second pass went to winning pitcher Joe Coleman, who fouled off 13 pitches before he walked.

Baltimore, with 108 victories, is still three short of Cleveland's 1954 American League record of 111 victories. The Orioles have five games remaining.

Mike Fiore tagged a two-run homer in the ninth inning, carrying Kansas City past Chicago. Jerry Adair had tied the game an inning earlier with a three-run blast for the Royals. Bill Melton connected for Chicago.

Catcher Dave Duncan celebrated his 24th birthday with a two-run homer that helped Oakland beat California. It was the A's 85th victory—their highest total since 1948 when they were playing in Philadelphia.

Wayne Comer's two-out homer in the 14th inning carried the Pilots past Minnesota. Greg Goossen had connected earlier for Seattle and the Twins' Harmon Killebrew took over the major league homer lead with his 48th of the season.

Two Rivers' Streak Cut by Kaukauna

TWO RIVERS — Kaukauna High School's Ghosts scored their biggest football win in a number of years Friday night when they upset Two Rivers, the state's seventh-ranked team.

Kaukauna stung the Raiders with a pair of first-half touchdowns and made them stand up for a 14-8 decision that snapped Two Rivers' 3-season win streak at 16 games.

LeRoy Wenzel scored on a 9-yard run and quarterback Karl Mueller tallied from one yard out as the Ghosts boosted their Mid-Eastern Conference record to 2-1 and over-all mark to 3-1. Paul Fassbender kicked both extra points.

John Hoffman scored Two Rivers' touchdown, in the third quarter, from seven yards away, and Jeff Peterson ran for a 2-point conversion. For the Raiders, who are now 1-1 in the conference and 3-1 over-all, it was the first defeat since losing to Neenah early in the 1967 season.

Dominates Play

Kaukauna dominated the action in the first half as it ran off 38 offensive plays and permitted Two Rivers only 12. For the entire game, the Ghosts had 62 plays in their ball-control strategy, while the Raiders managed only 38.

Wenzel led the way, with 102 yards in 30 carries. Fassbender added 75 yards in 22 carries. Their 52 total carries exceeded the entire Two Rivers play total by 14.

After the opening kickoff, the Ken Roloff-coached Ghosts march 69 yards in 14 running plays to score. Wenzel's 9-yarder capped the drive. Kaukauna's second TD march began late in the first quarter after a fumble recovery by Dan Deering ended with 10:20 remaining in the second period. Mueller climaxed the 11-play, 32-yard drive from the 1-yard line.

In the first half, Two Rivers' best penetration was to the Kaukauna 39.

In the third quarter, the Raiders put together a 51-yard drive to score. They were aided by a pass interference call on Kaukauna on a fourth-and-11 play from the Ghost 16. Hoffman scored from the 7, and Peterson's PAT run cut the margin to 14-8.

Kaukauna stymied the Raiders the rest of the way, and the Raiders' deepest advance in the final period was the Ghost 45.

The inspired Kaukauna defense held Hoffman to 25 yards in eight carries. Last week, he gained 144 yards against Menomonie. Jeff Schmidt led Two Rivers with 28 yards in 13 tries.

Summary:

two runs in the first inning and Gaylord Perry made them stand up as the Giants edged the Dodgers. Perry, 18-14, yielded an unearned run in the seventh.

Despite their sweep of Houston, the third-place Reds only clipped one-half game off Atlanta's lead and trail by three games. Maloney allowed only Joe Morgan's third-inning single in the opener and retired the last 16 batters he faced. Tony Perez homered for the Reds.

In the second game, Johnny Bench's homer in the sixth snapped a 3-3 tie after the Reds had blown a 3-0 lead, gained primarily on a two-run homer by Lee May. Curt Blefary hit a three-run homer for the Astros. Jerry Koonsman fired a four-hitter for his 17th victory and Donn Clendenon couped a two-run homer as the torrid Mets trounced Philadelphia for their 35th victory in the last 45 games.

Pittsburgh beat the Cubs for the 10th straight time at Forbes Field as dock Ellis hurled a five-hitter and Fred Patek hit a two-run homer.

Jerry DeVanion hit a three-run homer, Steve Huntz drove in three runs with a pair of homers and Tom Coulter smacked a three-run double as the rookie-laden Cardinals drubbed the Expos.

Weaver Becomes Celebrity

It's No Longer 'Earl Who?' For Orioles Fiery Manager

BY GORDON BEARD
BALTIMORE (AP) — On the Baltimore sports scene, it seems, the Earls have it. Last fall, quarterback Earl Morrall led the Baltimore Colts to the National Football League Championship. Last winter, Earl Monroe was the leading scorer as the Baltimore Bullets won the Eastern Division title in the National Basketball Association. Completing the cycle this summer, playing an important role in another championship team in another sport, is Manager Earl Weaver of the Baltimore Orioles.

As a manager, and in his first full year in the major leagues, Weaver started the baseball season as a virtual nonentity when compared with the other Earls of Baltimore. "Earl Who?" became a running gag with Weaver, who acknowledged — as once did another Maryland resident — that his name was not exactly a household word. Spiro Who?

Baltimore's Earl Weaver managed the Fox Cities Foxes in 1960 and 1961. In the former year, he directed the Foxes to the first pro baseball title ever for an Appleton-based team.

But with the success of the Orioles, and aided by frequent live and televised arguments with umpires, Weaver has become a celebrity in his own right. Autograph hunters not only recognize the name now, they even recognize the man.

Harry Dalton, director of player personnel for the Orioles, expected nothing less than success for Weaver.

"In the years he managed through our farm system," Dalton said, "Earl showed us he knew how to handle clubs, develop players and win games. 'I liked him from the first time I saw him manage. He was obviously a great competitor. He's aggressive and imaginative, has courage to make moves, and is alert to the abilities and personalities of his players.'"

Weaver replaced Hank Bauer as manager on July 11, 1968, after 11 highly successful seasons as manager in the Orioles system. His teams won three pennants, finished runnerup five times and were out of the first division only once.

After failing to make the majors as a second baseman, Weaver began managing at the end of the 1956 season — and set a goal of managing at the top minor league level, Class AAA.

Williams Called Up Then, when Dick Williams was called up from the International League in 1967 to manage the Boston Red Sox, and piloted them to a pennant, Weaver raised his sights.

"My team at Rochester won the pennant in 1966 and beat Williams' team," Weaver said. "So, I figured I could move up, too."

After a half season as an Orioles coach, Weaver got his chance Baltimore was 48-34 under him over the final half of

Tie in Pool Loop
Center Valley won seven of nine games from Techlin's and tied Log Cabin for the lead in the Valley Pool League Thursday night.

Both Center Valley and Log Cabin, which won five from Skunk Hill, own 22-14 records. There is also a deadlock for a second place between Reiland's and Home Tavern. Each has an 18-18 mark after Reiland's won 4-35 six from the HT.

1968 and this season the Orioles are closing in on Cleveland's all-time American League record of 111 victories.

"I thought from the start we had the personnel to win the pennant," said Weaver, a positive thinker, "and by the end of July, I felt sure we would."

Fifteen of the players representing Baltimore in the American League playoffs against Minnesota played for Weaver in the minors or in the Puerto Rican Winter League.

They know all about Earl Weaver. And, if the Orioles go all the way and win the World Series, so will a lot of other people.

South Milwaukee, Racine Case Lose

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Two Rivers, South Milwaukee and Racine Case were upset victims in Wisconsin high school football Friday night, in action that featured continued high scoring throughout the state.

Two Rivers (3-1) was ranked seventh in the week's Associated press "big ten" poll, but fell to Kaukauna 14-8.

Leroy Wenzel was the chief upset-maker, scoring one touchdown and collecting 102 yards in 30 carries for Kaukauna, now 3-1.

Racine Case, 10th in The AP "big ten," played without injured starting quarterback Jay Aldrich, and couldn't muster up enough offense without him.

Case (2-1) fell to neighbor Racine Park, 20-6.

South Milwaukee (2-1), a new member of the "big ten," couldn't take the thin air at the top of the heap, and fell before Wauwatosa East 21-20.

Two Rocket touchdown drives were halted by a stiff East defense late in the final period. The margin of victory was the final extra point kicked by East's John Buesing.

Madison La Follette, ranked third in the "big ten," roared away to a 20-7 first quarter lead and kept it up to dump Kenosha Bradbord 41-20.

Gary Windburn and Rick Smith each scored twice for La Follette, which won handily in spite of losing four fumbles.

Eau Claire Memorial (4-0) continued to outclass its competition and blasted Chippewa Falls 42-0.

Two conference records were set in the game, one individual and one team. Sophomore Jeff Vorpal intercepted four passes for one mark and the rest of the Abe secondary collected four more steals for a team interception record of eight in one game.

Ninth-ranked Green Bay East, 19-0, raised its record to 4-0. Oshkosh and Fond du Lac, passes fell incomplete, and Nos. 1 and 2 in the "big ten," Shawano had to punt. Aided by a 15-yard penalty, the Paper-

Durand, leader of the "little makers" appeared in a hole on the 60-6, racking up a 36-0 halftime lead and amassing 444 total yards.

Ron Krisik was the pacesetter for Durand (4-0), blasting for 174 yards in 16 carries.

Second-ranked Auburndale (5-0) rolled up 354 yards and downed Edgar 38-0, and fifth-ranked Royall (4-0) defeated Westfield 26-0.

Gale-Etrick, No. 3 in the "lit-ten," turned Bob Oynes loose for four touchdowns and grabbed his 13th straight victory, 56-8 over Arcadia.

St. Croix Central (3-0-1) came very close to an upset, as the sixth-ranked Panthers were tied by Colfax 6-6.

Milwaukee Boy's Tech, No. 11 in The AP poll, came on strong to smash Milwaukee Juneau 52-7.

Tech quarterback Randy Bozich threw touchdown passes of 16, 14 and 48 yards, all to end Larry Schwichert. Schwichert also returned a punt 77 yards for his fourth TD.

Two non-ranked teams, Marshfield and Eau Claire North, met with Marshfield winning 28-0. It broke a 30-game Marshfield losing streak.

Almond lost 43-0 a week ago, but found its defense Friday, defeating Tigerton 24-0 by holding the losers to minus 50 yards in statistical gains—or lack of them. Tigerton never got past the 50-yard line.

Plus XI, defending champion in the Milwaukee Catholic Conference, eliminated Mesmer from the unbeaten ranks 13-0, leaving the Popes with a 3-0 record.

Kimberly (4-0) crushed Shawano 36-0 with Tim Vander-Velden scoring three times, and took over the Midwest Conference lead in the wake of Two Rivers' upset loss to Kaukauna.

Carl Trinrud tallied four touchdowns for Waupaca (3-1) quarterback Greg Bohlig with a 48-0 conquest of Marion. Waupaca was ranked eighth in last week's "little ten" poll.

Gale-Etrick, No. 3 in the "lit-ten," turned Bob Oynes loose for four touchdowns and grabbed his 13th straight victory, 56-8 over Arcadia.

St. Croix Central (3-0-1) came very close to an upset, as the sixth-ranked Panthers were tied by Colfax 6-6.

Milwaukee Boy's Tech, No. 11 in The AP poll, came on strong to smash Milwaukee Juneau 52-7.

Tech quarterback Randy Bozich threw touchdown passes of 16, 14 and 48 yards, all to end Larry Schwichert. Schwichert also returned a punt 77 yards for his fourth TD.

Two non-ranked teams, Marshfield and Eau Claire North, met with Marshfield winning 28-0. It broke a 30-game Marshfield losing streak.

Almond lost 43-0 a week ago, but found its defense Friday, defeating Tigerton 24-0 by holding the losers to minus 50 yards in statistical gains—or lack of them. Tigerton never got past the 50-yard line.

Plus XI, defending champion in the Milwaukee Catholic Conference, eliminated Mesmer from the unbeaten ranks 13-0, leaving the Popes with a 3-0 record.

Kimberly (4-0) crushed Shawano 36-0 with Tim Vander-Velden scoring three times, and took over the Midwest Conference lead in the wake of Two Rivers' upset loss to Kaukauna.

Carl Trinrud tallied four touchdowns for Waupaca (3-1) quarterback Greg Bohlig with a 48-0 conquest of Marion. Waupaca was ranked eighth in last week's "little ten" poll.

Two conference records were set in the game, one individual and one team. Sophomore Jeff Vorpal intercepted four passes for one mark and the rest of the Abe secondary collected four more steals for a team interception record of eight in one game.

Ninth-ranked Green Bay East, 19-0, raised its record to 4-0. Oshkosh and Fond du Lac, passes fell incomplete, and Nos. 1 and 2 in the "big ten," Shawano had to punt. Aided by a 15-yard penalty, the Paper-

Durand, leader of the "little makers" appeared in a hole on the 60-6, racking up a 36-0 halftime lead and amassing 444 total yards.

Trevino Takes 'Alcan' Lead

Trevino said he enjoyed a pleasant evening with his family Thursday. "Leslie and I colored in a coloring book."

Leslie, a cute and knowledgeable 4-year-old, asked the first question at the news conference with her father. "Daddy, did you know you made a lot of birdies?"

Not Enough
But the relaxation it gives him is not enough to make Trevino take his family on the pro tour. "It's tough enough on the individual. I can't drag my family around like that."

Trevino held a one-stroke lead over Billy Casper and Bert Greene, who each had 688 over the 6,541-yard, par 35-37-72 Portland Golf Club course.

Gay Brewer, winner of the first two Alcan titles, and Deane Beman, former U.S. Amateur champion, were another stroke back.

The 24-man field is determined in a series of qualifying tournaments around the world, but nine of the top 10 scorers are from the U.S. pro tour.

Jean Garaialde of Paris, winner of the French, German and Spanish opens, had a 4-under par 140 and was tied for sixth three strokes back.

Kel Nagle, veteran Australian golfer, put himself out of contention when he signed an erroneous score card.

Nagle accidentally placed his 9-hole total of 35 in the space on the score card for the ninth-hole score. When he signed the card it became official and he was charged with taking 66 strokes on the front nine. With a back nine of 37, that gave him a 103 for the second round.

Christy O'Connor of Ireland, who played with Nagle and also signed the card, said he was shocked. "If I could I would give him my score for the round and withdraw."

Utke connected on a 17-yard pass to Eric Pingel in the third quarter for the final score of the contest. Everts' two points wrapped up the 36-0 tally for the Bears.

White Sox, 5-3

9,587 Watch Moe Drabowsky Preserve Victory

By BOB GREENE
MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Joe Gordon has one philosophy — when in trouble, turn to a pro.

The Kansas City manager did just that Friday night, and relief pitcher Moe Drabowsky came through with flying colors.

The Chicago White Sox had tied up the game at 3-3 and had the bases loaded with two out when Gordon signalled the bullpen.

"You've been through this before," Gordon told Drabowsky, an 11-year veteran of the majors who has seen service with the Chicago Cubs, Milwaukee Braves, Cincinnati Reds, Kansas City Athletics and Baltimore Orioles besides the expansion Royals.

The former Cub bonus baby dropped the first two curve balls over the plate, gave pinch hitter Gail Hopkins an outside fast ball, then struck out the White Sox batter on another fast ball.

"I was relaxed," Drabowsky said later. "I mixed up my pitches pretty well and had good control."

The White Sox, in their 11 regular season games here, drew 196,784 fans, an average of 17,189 per game.

Friday night's attendance was the lowest of the season, 9,587.

Pro Predictions Packers, Colts, Cards Will Win, Says Hand

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams, Cleveland Browns, Green Bay Packers and Dallas Cowboys look like solid bets to romp to a second straight Sunday victory but Alex Webster at New York and Chuck Noll at Pittsburgh may have to settle for their first 31.

Dallas 24, New Orleans 10—Craig Morton due back to take over for rookie Roger Staubach at quarterback for Cowboys, who clobbered Cards in opener. Saints' Andy Livingston, who land Raiders figure to roll over Boston in the American Football League.

Kansas City, without Lenny Dawson, could have trouble at quarterback for Cowboys, who clobbered Cards in opener. Cincinnati Bengals but the Oakland Raiders figure to roll over Boston in the American Football League.

After the first week, 6-7, it might be better to flip a coin or grab the underdog but here's the way it looks from here. All games are Sunday afternoon.

NFL

Los Angeles 27, Atlanta 14—Rams making home debut after opening win at Baltimore will find Falcons improved. Deacon Jones and Co. should shut the gate on Junior Coffey and Paul Gipson while Roman Gabriel works on Atlanta secondary.

Baltimore 21, Minnesota 19—One more chance for the Colts who failed us in the opener. These rivals play rough, tough football with rugged defensive hitting. John Unitas is better than anything Vikings have so edge goes to Baltimore.

Shepard Fired By Pittsburgh

Frank Lucchesi Hired as New Phillies Manager

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Larry Shepard has time to think about what might have been; Frank Lucchesi has the Richie Allen bridge to cross, and Gil Hodges has a new three-year contract.

Shepard was fired Friday as manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates because "things didn't work out as we thought they would," according to General Manager Joe L. Brown.

Lucchesi was hired as manager of the Philadelphia Phillies, replacing interim manager George Myatt, who took over when Bob Skinner quit Aug. 7 in a hassle with the front office concerning the controversial Allen.

Asked how he intended to handle Allen, whom he managed in the minors at Little Rock, Ark., Lucchesi said, "I will cross that bridge when I come to it."

Hodges, who guided the surprising New York Mets to the National League East championship, was given a new three-year contract at a reported $15,000-a-year pay boost to $75,000 annually. The contract runs through 1972.

'Best Contract'

"I asked for nothing and I got three years," said Hodges. "It's the best contract I've ever had."

Alex Grammas will handle Pittsburgh for the remainder of the season, but Brown said this did not mean he would be chosen manager for next year. Grammas and Bill Virdon must be considered, but there is a strong feeling that the next Pirates manager will be Don Hoak, a former Pittsburgh player now managing at Columbus, Ohio.

Shepard is the sixth manager to be fired this season. Besides Skinner, the others were Bill Rigney, replaced by Lefty Phillips at California; Hank Bauer, replaced by John McNamara at Oakland; Al Lopez, replaced by Don Gutteridge for the Chicago White Sox, and Dick Williams, replaced by Ed Popowski at Boston.

Lucchesi, 42, has been a minor league manager the past 19 years and has a thorough knowledge of the Phillies' farm system, which the club is expected to draw on heavily if it goes through with a reported house-cleaning operation. Such an operation could include the unhappy Allen.

When Allen and Lucchesi were at Little Rock, Allen contended he was the victim of racial bigotry by the fans and Lucchesi refuted the charge.

St. Louis 20, Chicago 13—Neither team showed a thing on offense last week. Bears were shut out by Packers and Gale Sayers was held to 36 yards. He'll do better this time. Cards' receivers much better than Bears' and Charley Johnson should be able to hit them. Cards won exhibition game 37-10.

Dallas 24, New Orleans 10—Craig Morton due back to take over for rookie Roger Staubach at quarterback for Cowboys, who clobbered Cards in opener. Saints' Andy Livingston, who land Raiders figure to roll over Boston in the American Football League.

Detroit 24, New York 21—Tempted to pick an upset win for the Giants after last week's win over Vikings but that Lion defense, especially before home folks, should contain Fran Tarkenton and Tucker Fredrickson. If Giants win this one, they'll be on the way. A real key game for Webster.

Philadelphia 20, Pittsburgh 17—Eagles lost to Browns while Steelers beat Lions. Could go either way.

Green Bay 21, San Francisco 10—Packers seem to have found the combination just in time for the regular season, impressing with 17-0 shutout of Bears. Travis Williams and Jim Grabowski new running combo backs up Bart Starr's passing. The 49ers can't seem to get going with six straight exhibition defeats and an opening loss in Atlanta.

Cleveland 24, Washington 17—Vince Lombardi's men will give it the big effort and Sonny Jurgensen will pick a few holes in the Browns' pass umbrella. Cleveland, beaten at home in that big exhibition doubleheader, anxious to show Art Modell they're not that bad. Loss of Leroy Kelly would hurt but Ron Johnson sparked last week.

AFL

Denver 17, Buffalo 14—Pete Liske took Broncos in against Jets and could do it again against Bills if Steve Tensi still is out. O.J. Simpson still hasn't hit high gear for a twice-beaten Buffalo which has quarterback trouble. Doubtful status of Floyd Little suggests close one.

Kansas City 24, Cincinnati 14—Chiefs solid all around but offense must suffer with Len Dawson out. Greg Cook the early season whiz of the league could make it real close for Paul Brown's Bengals.

New York 23, San Diego 17—The battered Jets, limping out of Denver, should bounce back strong against Chargers who shot workers in losing opener to Chiefs. Joe Namath overdue.

Houston 17, Miami 14—Much tougher than some think. Oilers seldom score heavily and Hoyle Granger is questionable due to rib injury. Bob Griese always threat to get on board for Miami with Jim Kiick showing great early form.

Oakland 28, Boston 7—Raiders should have no trouble with punchless Pats who haven't beaten them since 1966. Daryle Lamonica to Fred Biletnikoff should do the trick without any help from George Blanda.

Bonduel Nips Sturgeon Bay

Bears March 57 Yards in Final 1:23 to Triumph

STURGEON BAY — With a minute and 23 seconds remaining in the game, the Bonduel Bears took the ball on their own 43-yard line and four plays drove in a touchdown, to edge the Sturgeon Bay Clippers 14-13 Friday night. Bonduel is now 3-0 in the Northeastern Wisconsin conference and Sturgeon Bay is 2-1.

Sturgeon Bay led off the scoring on a first quarter on a 30-yard touchdown pass from Bill Johnson to Scott Sorenson. Johnson also kicked the extra point.

The Bears came back in the second quarter with a 65-yard drive in 12 plays. Tom Zernicke ran in the touchdown from the 11 and Jim Reinke ran in the 2-point conversion. The Clippers scored in the same quarter.

John Koopman

Faculty Recital Sunday

John Koopman to Sing Works of 4 Composers

A program of songs of the 1940s is planned by faculty bass-baritone John Koopman for his recital at 8 p.m. Sunday at Lawrence University's Harper Hall.

Koopman, an associate professor of music, will sing works of English, French, German and American composers.

Research Outgrowth

Included are "Four Sacred Sonnets" (John Donne), by William Wordsworth; Arthur Honegger's "Quatre chansons pour voix graves;" three songs on texts of Eluard, Aragon and Apollinaire, by Francis Poulenc; three songs on texts of Friedrich Holderlin, by Herman Reuter; and songs on texts of Melville, L. P. Smith, St. Thersa of Avila and the second book of Samuel, by David Diamond. The program is an outgrowth of Koopman's research during a European sabbatical in 1968. Since that time, the singer has concentrated on the song catalogues of the two French composers.

His studies also revealed the extensive writing of Reuter, who in 1965 appeared on the Lawrence Chamber Music series as an accompanist to singers John and Marion Paton. Koopman received bachelor and master of music education degrees at Drake University, Des Moines, Iowa, and has studied at Indiana University. His teachers were Marita Farrel and Marko Rothmueller.

Before joining the Lawrence faculty in 1960, he was an instructor in voice at Bethany College, Lindsborg, Kans. While there, he won the 1960 Kansas district contest of the Metropolitan Opera auditions. At Lawrence, he has made more than a dozen appearances as a recitalist and as soloist with the Lawrence Choral Society. He has been director of the Lawrence Opera Theatre since its founding in 1961. He also directs the choir of the First Methodist Church, Appleton.

He will be assisted on Sunday's recital by his wife, pianist Jane Hayes Koopman.

Waupaca Raps Marion, 48-0, In CWC Game

Riddle, Trinrud Set Pace for Defending Champs

MARION — The Waupaca Comets, the defending Central Wisconsin Conference champions, whipped the Marion Mustang football team, 48-0, Friday. Waupaca is now 2-0 while the Mustangs are 0-1 in the league. The Comets were spearheaded by Dennis Riddle and Carl Trinrud. Riddle completed four touchdown passes to Trinrud. Three of which came in the first quarter and the other in the second. One was a 60-yard play. The other scoring plays for Waupaca came when Riddle threw a 44 yard aerial to Dean High in the second quarter. In the same quarter, Riddle handed off to Lee Soldberg who ran a yard to score.

The last TD of the game came in the fourth quarter when Riddle threw a pass to Doug Peterson. Peterson also kicked three field goals one of which was 35 yards when the Comets were penalized 20 yards for illegal procedure.

Statistically, Waupaca had 31 yards rushing to Marion's minus 1, 18 first downs to Marion's 2, and 166 yards passing to Marion's 44.

Waupaca	21	21	6	0	0

when Steve Paul ran the ball in from the 3-yard line. An attempted run for the conversion failed leaving the score at the end of the half at 13-8 in favor of the Clippers.

In the final portion of the game, the Bears made their 57-yard touchdown drive, the ball being carried over from the five by quarterback John Reinke with only 23 seconds remaining to play. A run for the conversion failed.

Bonduel led the Clippers, 13-10, in first downs while the Clippers led the Bears, 249-220, in total yards. Jim Reinke led the Bears in rushing with 68 yards in 11 carries.

Man Jailed for Making Obscene Telephone Calls

A 24-year-old Neenah man who Thursday was found guilty of two counts of making annoying telephone calls appealed his 60-day jail sentence Friday.

Outagamie County Judge Nick F. Schaefer imposed the maximum sentence on Dennis Barth, who was convicted following a brief trial before Schaefer, of making the annoying calls to his mother-in-law, Mrs. Ray Korth, 821 N. Morrison St., last December.

Schaefer said Friday that a pre-sentence investigation revealed Barth had a long and poor record.

"Something is not registering with you," Schaefer told the Neenah man, who was released from Central State Hospital three months ago.

Barth did not have an attorney for his trial Thursday, nor did he participate in his own defense. However, the attorney who was with him Friday filed appeals to Circuit Court immediately after Schaefer pronounced sentence.

She's Self-Conscious About Leg Veins

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have had a rotten, miserable summer. Please tell me now what to do to make sure that next summer isn't the same.

"I had two chances for the contract," South sighed at the end of today's hand, "but they both turned sour." North looked sympathetic, but he was tempted to ask why South hadn't looked for a third chance. It would have brought his contract safely home.

South won the first trick in his hand with the queen of diamonds and led the jack of spades. Dummy's king would be good for a trick if West had the ace.

West covered with the queen of spades, and dummy's king lost to the ace. Back came the ten of hearts, and South tried the heart finesse. If East had the king of hearts South would make his contract.

The heart finesse lost, and South eventually lost a club trick, too. Down one.

Main Chance
South went for his main chance when he led the jack of spades, but it would have cost him nothing to try for a remote extra chance. He could make his contract if East had both the king and queen of clubs, and he could still rely on his main chance if West showed up with one of the club honors.

Declarer should win the first trick in dummy with the nine of diamonds and should immediately return the low club from dummy. If East plays low, South will win a finesse with the jack or nine, so East must put up the queen to force out the ace. South draws the last trump.

Now South returns a low club, and dummy's ten forces out the king. East returns a heart, but South steps up with the ace of hearts and cashes the jack and nine of clubs to discard both spades from the dummy.

If West had one or both of the club honors, he would win the first club trick after South tried a finesse. But then West would be unable to attack the hearts. South would still be able to try for a spade trick first and a heart finesse next.

Daily Question
Partner opens with one diamond and the next play passes. You hold S-K 6, H-7 6 4 2, D-J 9 5 4 2, C-10 2. What do you say?
Answer: Bid two diamonds. You have 4 points in high cards, 2 points for the two doubletons and 1 extra point for length in trumps. This is enough for a raise.

Calcium Loss Causes
Pathological Fracture

By George C. Thosteson, M.D.
Dear Dr. Thosteson: Several months ago my hip broke. It broke walking along and it broke without any pain or warning. I had a good bone specialist set it, but he did not give me any bone medicine, so now I'm worried that my other hip might go the same way.
I thought my bones were hard

Thosteson

because I have been taking calcium for seven years. I am strong and well, but I'm 83 years old. I walk a mile or two every day. — Mrs. W. K. R.

This type of fracture is known as a pathological fracture. As people grow older, and this is particularly true of women well past menopause, the bones become less dense due to osteoporosis. That is, calcium is not deposited in the bones as rapidly as it is being lost.

The degree of calcium loss is quite variable, but in some individuals, certain apparently innocent stresses are enough to cause a fracture — as in your case.

Not nearly enough is yet understood about osteoporosis, despite considerable study. Three factors, however, are known. A change in hormone balance (after menopause evidently has an effect, so treatment with hormones tends to retard osteoporosis. Second, many older people do not get enough calcium. You have been taking calcium, which is good, but perhaps you still did not take enough, because large doses are necessary for results.

One reason for lack of calcium is the idea that adults "don't need milk." Well, they do — for body-needs other than bones, and I have repeatedly warned of this. A quart of milk a day provides a good calcium supply, but many oldsters won't drink that much (Skim milk, buttermilk, yogurt if people prefer it, or milk in other foods, all will add to the calcium supply. And calcium can be taken in tablet form, too.)

In some cases, fluoride tablets help.

Finally, bones become denser from use, less dense from lack of use. Therefore, in your case it will be wise for you to continue your walking when you are able.

I cannot predict whether you will ever have another pathological fracture, but at least you have some methods of being helped, and your doctor may choose to have X-rays to determine the present density of your bones.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Someone very close to us says you can catch scarlet fever again. Is this so or not? — J. L. D.

Scarlet fever is caused by any of a variety of streptococcus germs. Recurrence is rare. In Dear Dr. Thosteson: Several about 2 per cent of cases the months ago my hip broke. Just exposure to a different type of strep. For practical purposes, one can say that scarlet fever does not occur "again and again."

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is it okay to give a child nine months old soft drinks, such as pop? — Mrs. B. P.

I'm opposed to it, not that the baby will be directly harmed by it, but it contains nothing but some sweet flavor. Instead of satisfying the baby's appetite with that, better to give foods or liquids that will help build a strong body.

Besides, that's much too early to start developing a "sweet tooth" in a child.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: If you smoke 10 cigarettes a day, would it be harmful enough to give up smoking? I'm a 20-year smoker. — C. D.

Yes. Ten's better than 20, but not as good as none.

"Tips On How To Stop Smoking," by Thosteson will help you give up the habit. To receive a copy of the booklet, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Post-Crescent, enclosing your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letter. Readers' questions are incorporated in this column whenever possible.

Her 1968 car was demolished, but Sharon A. Young, 18, route 2, Hortonville, escaped serious injury in a one-car accident about 2 a.m. today on U.S. 10, just west of Outagamie Trunk TT, a mile east of Dale.

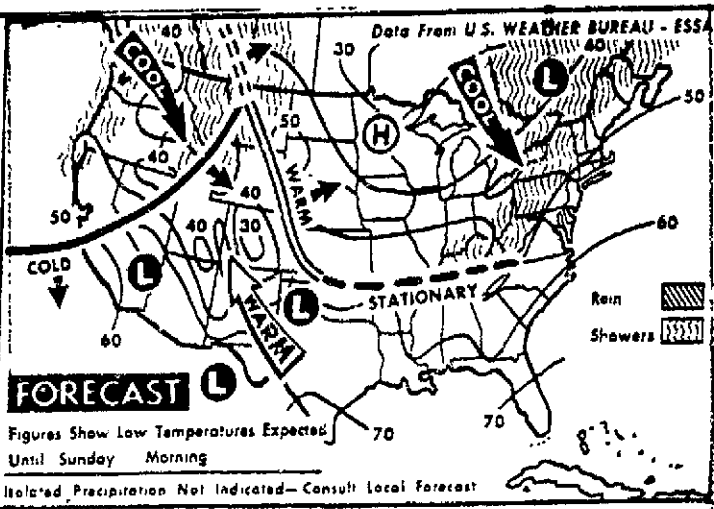

County police said Miss Young was westbound on 10 when she reportedly fell asleep and her car left the road. The auto "squeezed" between a big culvert and a rock pile in its 500-foot journey in the ditch, police said.

Miss Young was taken by squad car to New London Community Hospital for treatment of a cut nose and head bruises.

Girl Has Abrasions, Cuts From Car Mishap

SHIOCTON — Barbara A. Draheim, 20, route 1, Hortonville, suffered cuts and abrasions to her hands and face about 11:30 a.m. Friday when her car struck a mailbox and tipped over along State 187, two and one-half miles north of here.

Outagamie County police said Miss Draheim was taken by auto to a Hortonville doctor. She said she was northbound when she lost control of her car when she swerved to avoid striking a deer. Police estimated damage to her car at $600.

Announcer-Professor
To Preach at Immanuel

KAUKAUNA — "The Seminary and the Winds of Change" will be the sermon topic this Sunday at the Immanuel United Church of Christ (UCC) here, at the 8:30 and 10 a.m. services. His topic will interpret present trends in light of Christian theology and the theological education.

The minister received his education at Lakeland College, attended Princeton Seminary, Westminster College, Cambridge, England, and Mission House Seminary, where he received his bachelor of divinity. He also holds a doctorate from the University of Wisconsin.

Most of his experience is in the field of communications. He was a radio announcer for various stations in the state. He is a associate professor of speech and communications, associate professor of preaching, radio-television program director and producer-host for the Town Meeting TV series.

SHAWANO — "That They May Hear" will be the theme of the North-Wisconsin-Upper Michigan District Lutheran Laymen's League (LLL) convention Friday through Oct. 5 at St. James Lutheran School here.

The Rev. William Kniffel, who serves as director of foreign operations for LLL, will be the featured speaker.

This district, one of 43 geographical divisions of the International LLL, is an auxiliary organization of The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod. It has 150,000 members.

Besides the sponsorship of the Lutheran Hour, the League also has begun a $150,000 per year newspaper and magazine advertising campaign.

Youth With No Valid License Goes to Jail
Michael P. Hermes, 17, 1713 S. Sanders St., was sentenced to 10 days in jail this morning after he pleaded guilty of driving after his license was suspended.

Outagamie County Judge Nick F. Schaefer revoked Hermes' driver's license for another year. Appletown police arrested the youth in the 1901 block of S. Oneida Street Sept. 17.

Parish Council
To be Formed
By Holy Name

KIMBERLY — Plans are underway for the formation of a parish council at Holy Name of Jesus Catholic Church with a steering committee already selected to work out details on activities and the function of the council.

Selected on the steering committee were Eugene Appleton, Allan Dietzler, Eugene Stuyvenberg, Sylvester Vander Heyden, Mrs. Rose Eiding, Mrs. Richard Reider, Mrs. Glen Vandell, Leonard Romanesko, Leon Oudenhoven, Denis Valentine, Dr. Phillip Bouressa and Dennis Wydeven.

Three priests, one nun and two high school students will also sit on the steering committee.

Groundbreaking Set for Mt. Olive

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the Mt. Olive Lutheran Church expansion, located on Church Ave., east on N. Meade St., are scheduled for 11:45 a.m. Sunday.

The initial construction will include a day school, parish hall, gym, pastor's office, office complex and a home for the principal. That cost is $466,000. The second phase will include a church and parsonage but no construction date for this has been set.

Lutheran Meetings

MANAWA — On Wednesday the Bible Study group of St. Paul Lutheran Church will meet at 9:30 a.m. and the senior choir will rehearse at 8:30 p.m. The Ladies Aid will meet at 2 p.m. and the Bible Study group at 8 p.m. on Thursday.

First Presbyterian, Kimberly,
Reviews Pledge Program

KIMBERLY — Officers of the First Presbyterian Church voted recently to suggest each parish family "give serious consideration to pledging 3 per cent of the annual family income, after taxes, to the church for 1970," according to the Rev. John Bowe, pastor.

Action was taken after a study of donations received in 1969 revealed the average per family was about 2 per cent, some higher and others lower. A pledge drive will be held Nov. 1. The stewardship committee campaign.

Dr. R. E. Fulop Now Serves as Educator, Missionary to Japan

The Rev. Dr. Robert E. Fulop, missionary to Japan, will speak at the 10:30 a.m. services Sunday at First Baptist Church, of which he was pastor from October, 1955 through July, 1957.

Dr. Fulop, is on the faculty of the College of Theology of

Rev. Dr. Fulop

Kanto Gakuin University in Yokohama, Japan. The school serves about 10,000 students in departments ranging from kindergarten to graduate school. There also are 43 theological students enrolled.

Only recently Kanto Gakuin was the scene of campus unrest, as students protested the rule of the "establishment" and Dr. Fulop has served as a mediator in the dispute which closed the school temporarily.

In addition to his teaching duties in the school of theology, the Baptist missionary teaches courses in Christianity to students in other departments of the university.

He is a native of Illinois and earned his bachelor's degree at Northwestern University, Evanston, and the bachelor of divinity at Northern Baptist Theological Seminary, Oakbrook, Ill. He was awarded a doctorate in theology by New College of the University of Edinburgh, Scotland.

Charlie Brown What to Do - Where to Go

Appears in TV Special

BY TV SCOUT

7:30-8 Channel 2-7 - The shortest half-hour of this TV night is a brand new Peanuts special, It Was a Short Summer, Charlie Brown. Appropriately enough, the show starts with the first day of school. Charlie is in the throes of recalling all the fun and much of the frustrations of his minor summer mishaps. No matter what the subject, Snoopy is sure to come out on top, as he does tonight in an arm wrestling battle with Lucy.

8:30-9:30 Channel 11-9 - The Johnny Cash Show rides out its summer season with one of its better shows, and with no small thanks to guest star Phil Harris. He sings his all-time hit, "That's What I Like About the South," with Cash and an updated version of another old Harris hit, "Smoke, Smoke, Smoke That Cigarette." Man Critical After Being Hit by Car

OSU Student Laying In Middle of Road, According to Driver

OSHKOSH — An Oshkosh State University student is in critical condition at Mercy Medical Center after being struck by an auto on State 44 near its intersection with Winnebago County Trunk FF at 4:54 a.m. today.

The accident victim is Robert J. Wheaton, 26, Ripon, a former patrolman on the Ripon Police Force. He was struck by an auto being driven southwest on State 44 by John Jay Taylor, 651A Division St., also an OSU student and a resident of Waukesha.

Taylor told Winnebago County Police he noticed an object lying across the center line of the highway, but could not avoid hitting it by the time he had determined it was a body.

He said Wheaton was lying on his back on the road with his hands resting under the back of his head, and an auto was parked off the road nearby.

Wheaton was taken to Mercy with gashes to his chest and extensive head injuries. Hospital officials said he immediately entered surgery and still was in surgery as of late this morning.

The sheriff's department is investigating circumstances of the accident. Taylor was driving an auto owned by Stanley L. Obrey, Ripon.

Appleton Man Gets Governor's Award

MADISON — Philip J. Sealy, vice president of the Fox River Paper Mills, Appleton, was one of five state individuals presented the governor's awards in the arts by Governor Warren P. Knowles Friday.

The awards are given for contribution to culture activities. Two organizations were also honored.

Recipients in addition to Sealy were Warrington Colescott, Aaron Bohrod and James Watrous, all of the University of Wisconsin's Madison campus, and Mrs. Ronald A. Dougan, Beloit.

Organizations receiving awards were the Peninsula Arts Association, Ephraim, and the Wisconsin Ballet Company headquartered in Madison.

Appleton Motorist Must Pay $40 Fine

A 10-day jail sentence was ordered Friday for Paul R. Humphrey, 24, 211 N. Fair St., who pleaded guilty to a charge of driving without a license.

The mandatory jail sentence was imposed after the court learned it was Humphrey's second conviction for driving without a license. He also was fined $40 and costs or 10 days in jail for imprudent driving.

Appleton police brought both counts after Humphrey's car was involved in an accident at Memorial Drive and Third Street Sept. 21.

Wonderful Wisconsin Week observance at Neenah's Taft School took a patriotic turn Friday as the students learned a bit about the proper way to display and respect "Old Glory." Approves 1970 Sunny View Budget

OSHKOSH — The Institutions Committee of the county board Thursday approved Sunny View Sanatorium operational expenses totaling $116,180 for 1970.

Explorer Leaders

MENASHA — Boy Scout Explorer Post 55, St. Patrick School, held an organizational meeting Tuesday night. Gary Van Hule was elected president. Other officers are Dan Coyle, vice president; Dan Spaulding, treasurer, and Tod Wirth and Joe Stuck as post representatives for the scout year.

The budget, recommended by is $110,000. However, $60,000 the trustees of Winnebago and Fond du Lac counties, does not reflect salaries which are presently under negotiation.

Based on the estimated equalized valuation, Fond du Lac County, 36 per cent and Winnebago, 64 per cent, budget costs are $43,451 for Fond du Lac, and $72,729 to Winnebago.

Remodeling Included in the expenditure outlay is $50,000 for remodeling of the tuberculosis wards. The county board this month approved plans for an architect's study for the remodeling. Estimated cost for remodeling Court.

2 New Home Permits Raise Total to 112

NEENAH The number of new homes in Neenah for 1969 has climbed to 112 with the issuance of two building permits to B and J Construction Co. The homes, each estimated at $10,000, will be built at 1088 Laurel Court and 1077 Holly Court.

$108,000 Cut From Neenah School Budget

NEENAH — Another $108,000 was pared from the Neenah School operating budget Friday night bringing the total reductions to within $40,000, Mayor Donald Hassler's guideline of 10 per cent over the current tax levy.

Total reductions to date have reached approximately $277,000. The board has estimated budgetary salaries because negotiations with teachers have not been completed. Salaries comprise about 70 per cent of the school budget.

The budget before Friday's session was about $6,642,450 and during the session the board members approved cuts of about $46,000 in the non-instructional area and about $70,000 in instruction.

An additional $8,000 was budgeted for appraisals of school buildings for insurance purposes. The last appraisal of the buildings was made in 1962.

Bridge Bond Issue Action Stalled Again by Committee

MADISON (AP)—The Legislature's Joint Finance Committee refused again Friday to liberate a plan for issuing $33.9 million in bonds for overhaul and replacement of 24 highway bridges.

The committee voted 8-5 to postpone consideration of the measure until next week at the earliest. Nevertheless, it appears the committee will give the bond issue an unfavorable recommendation by the time it is forwarded to the Legislature.

Sen. Chester Dempsey, R-Hartland, said the state's interstate highway network will be virtually completed when I-90 is opened in November between Tomah and La Crosse.

Action Wanted "Now all of a sudden we are told the bridges in the state are going to collapse," he said.

Gov. Warren P. Knowles has asked for swift action on the measure, saying no bridges have yet collapsed but that many are in dangerous condition.

Opponents of the measure argue there are no satisfactory revenue provisions to pay off the bonds.

Criminal Center

A favorable vote was given to a measure to establish a criminal identification center in the Department of Justice.

The bill, which has a price tag of $170,000 for the next two years, would aid local police in identifying wanted criminals, according to Atty. Gen. Robert Warren who appeared in behalf of the measure.

Appleton Boy Breaks Arm in Fall From Tree

Lawrence Kluball, 9, 1000 E. North St., suffered a fractured right arm and back and shoulder injuries when he fell 15 feet from a tree in front of 937 E. North Street about 3:55 p.m. Friday. He was taken to Appleton Memorial Hospital by the fire department rescue squad.

At 2:10 a.m. today, Mike Lee, 20, Brookfield, was taken to Memorial Hospital by the rescue squad for treatment of face and leg cuts he suffered when he slipped on broken glass on the sidewalk in the 800 block of W. College Avenue.

Neenah Committee Decides on Street as Traffic Loop Solution

NEENAH — The Public Works Committee, not wanting to delay preparation of the city's comprehensive redevelopment plan, Friday decided to use Canal Street as the north end of the traffic loop.

The decision means that for the present time proposals to construct a street over the canal are being set aside.

The committee made its decision after hearing a fourth and fifth proposal from Dale Rice of Rice and Urban Engineers, who had originally proposed construction over the canal.

His fourth proposal was a bridge to span the canal with a bridge about 500 feet either way from N. Commercial Street to tie in with Walnut and Church Streets.

Two Ways Suggested

Rice had suggested two ways of widening Canal Street. The first was expanding the street from 30 feet wide to 60 feet wide so it could carry four lanes of traffic. The second proposal, the one chosen by the Public Works Committee, is the same as the first except the curves are flared and a new bridge surface would be built over the canal.

The cost of the proposal chosen by the committee is estimated at $43,900, compared with about $407,000 for the first proposal.

Rice's plan for filling in the canal and installing two large conduits to supply water to the Bergstrom Paper Co., had been estimated at $431,000, but this did not include purchasing the real estate from the Neenah-Menasha Water Power Company, which owns the canal.

The two new proposals submitted Friday also did not include purchase of air rights to construct a span over the canal.

Fifth Plan Proposed

Rice said the span proposal would cost about $661,590 exclusive of air right costs. His plan would make use of steel beams driven to bedrock on either side of the canal to support the bridge.

He also proposed a fifth plan to use portions of his second and fourth schemes. He said it would be feasible to build a span over the canal but use it only for parking and reconstruct Canal Street to be used as the major thoroughfare. He estimated this at $941,400.

The Public Works Committee, although it had indicated a preference for the third scheme of filling in the canal and using it for the street, voted to go with the less expensive plan, primarily because of the unknown cost of canal real estate or air rights.

"By going with this plan we won't be restricting ourselves because we can always decide to go north without hampering the downtown redevelopment plan," ald. Joseph Kraus said.

Needed a Decision

James Stahlman, who is preparing the city's redevelopment plan, needed a decision on which way the committee wanted to go because if it chose one of the alternatives on the canal it would give him about 1.8 acres more in the downtown to develop for parking.

By using the canal, the city could reclaim the land and be able to create 220 more parking stalls in close proximity to the downtown.

With the committee decision, Stahlman can now proceed to his final plan to redevelop the city's central business district.

Sheriff, Jail Budgets Show $12,882 Increase for 1970

OSHKOSH — A budget for the Winnebago County Sheriff and Jail Departments for 1970 totaling $482,555, $12,882 over the current budget, was approved Friday by the sheriff and coroner committee.

Operational costs for the sheriff's department were estimated at $462,615 and a budget of $19,940 has been compiled for jail operations.

As in all other county department budgets to date, new salary expenditures are not reflected in the total picture because of present negotiations. The present salary schedule was used in computing projected costs.

Sheriff Marvin Peppier requested two additional clerk-stenographers and a detective sergeant. He also urged a revision in the jail policy calling for the department to be operated by the county's administrative department rather than the sheriff's department.

The personnel request was referred to the labor relations committee.

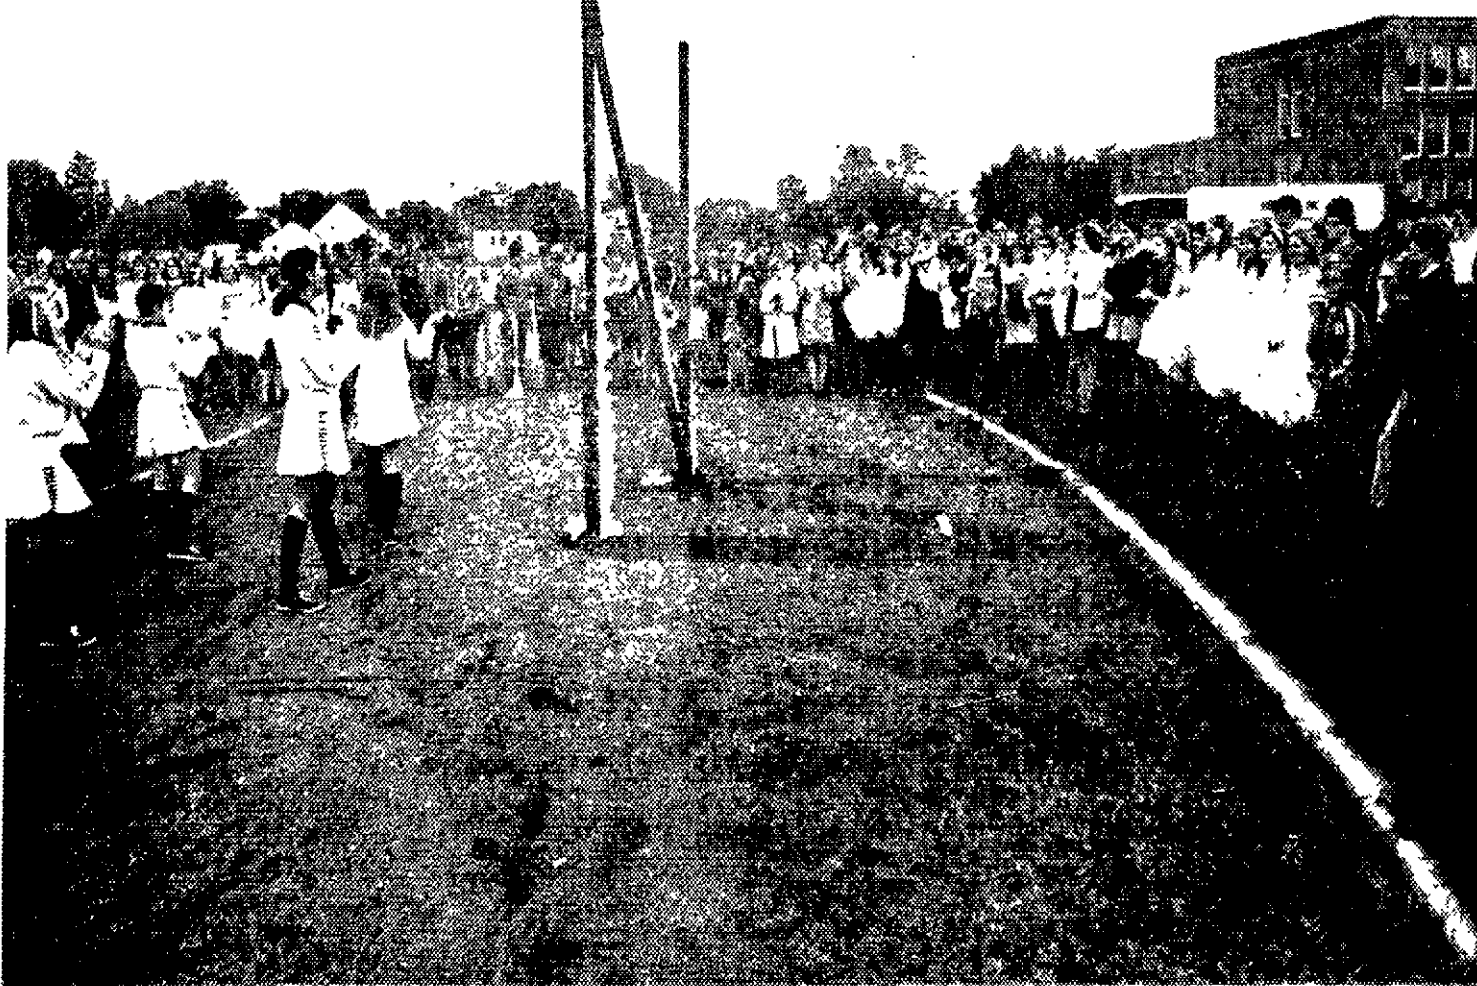

Committee chairman E. G. Steinhilber appointed a three-man committee to study the feasibility of changing over the jail department operation.

The committee also approved a request by the sheriff to purchase $2,000 worth of additional riot control equipment for the patrolmen.

Approximately 75 per cent of the costs would be reimbursed by the federal government for the additional equipment.

Although Christmas may be three months away Menasha businessmen are deciding what type of decorations to buy to adorn the downtown this year during Yule season. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Meet Set on Family Life Education

OSHKOSH — The Governor's Commission on the Status of Women will join forces with Oshkosh State University's extended services to present a conference on family life education Oct. 8 at the Pioneer Inn.

Cooperating in the conference are the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction and the State Board of Health.

Reservations to attend the day-long conference should be made with the OSU Division of Extended Services.

Speakers will be two recognized authorities in the field of family life education, a course which began at Oshkosh High School here this semester. There will be time for discussion and a challenge for action.

Dr. Robert Russell of Southern Illinois University will address the conference at the morning session and again at 3 p.m. A. B. Abramovitz, chief of the child behavior and development section, State Division of Health, will be the principal afternoon speaker.

Community Support

Those attending the conference will be welcomed by Dr. Kathryn Clarenback, chairman of the governor's commission, and hear a brief address by Russell C. Mosely, coordinator of curriculum development, Department of Public Instruction.

Dr. Russell's 10 a.m. talk will be on how people can be effective in their communities in stimulating support for family life education in school and home. Discussion will follow.

Speaker at the 12:15 p.m. luncheon will be Dr. David Bowman, dean of the OSU school of education.

Abramovitz will keynote the second general session at 1:30 p.m., speaking on the implications for mental health in family life education, and the conference will hear Dr. Russell in conclusion on the challenges for action.

Before joining the faculty of Southern Illinois as associate professor of health education, Dr. Russell taught at the junior high level in the area of human science. He taught marriage and family education at Stanford for two and a half years and during the summer of 1967, he instructed in family life education at the University of Hawaii.

Total Health Program

Dr. Russell is now involved with the school health education study in developing guides and materials for a total health program concept which includes family life education as part of the K-12 curriculum. He received his bachelor and graduate degrees from Stanford University.

Abramovitz is a familiar writer and lecturer in Wisconsin. He is a graduate of Bowdoin College and Columbia University. His early work was in residential psychiatric treatment clinics for adolescent boys and experimental delinquency prevention work.

After considerable experience in working with diagnosis and treatment of children's difficulties, he turned his attention to community-preventive programs and health building for children as they grow up in families. He has written several books and various journal articles on child behavior and development.

Combined Fox Valley Plan Poll Proposed on Data Bank

OSHKOSH — City Mgr. Angus Crawford proposed here Friday that municipal administrators from Kaukauna to Fond du Lac sound out their city councils on participation in the operation of a regional information system if federal funds can be procured to develop it.

What he proposed appeared to be a solution to hopes for a computerized data bank for the

Chances Better For Tarr Plan

Warren Predicts
Some Task Force
Proposals Will Pass

MENASHA — State Atty. Gen. Robert Warren Friday predicted that prospects for passage of some Tarr Task Force proposals were better today than they were two weeks ago.

The county assessor proposal was cited as having a very good chance for passage during the special session of the Legislature.

The attorney general also hailed the approval of a computer center in Madison for keeping a central file on criminal records in the state. He said he believed it would be funded through the omnibus crime bill.

Later, at a GOP fund raising dinner, Warren warned that more and more people must get involved in politics. "The last 30 years of this century will see more and more people problems," the attorney general said.

Because of the increased pressure caused by a growing population, government will become more important, Warren said. For this reason, it is getting more important to become involved, he added.

Cartridge Tapes Stolen From Car

MENASHA — John M. Jandrey, 800 Bay View Road, Neenah, told police about 8:30 p.m. Friday that someone had broken into his parked car and taken five cartridge tapes valued at $28 stored in the glove compartment.

Jandrey's auto was parked near the Twin City Bowl on Plank Road. He said his vehicle was locked.

AAL Ends Lease Alex's Manor House Closes Doors Friday

Alex's Manor House restaurant, which has served shoppers and downtown businessmen for 7½ years, locked its doors for the last time about midnight Friday.

The owner of the two-story structure, the Aid Association for Lutherans, terminated the lease because of other plans for the site, William H. Zuehlke, Jr., senior AAL vice president and director of investments, announced Friday.

"Because of our need for the property," he said, "it became desirable to terminate our lease agreement."

Not Disclosed

"Our future plans, because they involve other things, cannot be disclosed at this time," he added.

However, he said the property had been purchased earlier this decade for possible parking space, and this would be consid-region, a facility long proposed by Dr. Millan Vuchich and Oshkosh State University's Department of Urban Affairs. Initial funding, so far, has been a major stumbling block.

Crawford proposed that the Fox Valley cities investigate a program of the Department of Housing and Urban Development which provides funds for a master information system and sub-components as an aid to urban planning and development.

Prime Contractor

The sub-systems, Crawford said, will be developed with a city as prime contractor and will be fully by HUD grants. Commitments by the contracting city would be only for operation of the system as it proved feasible.

With deadline for grant application Oct. 31, Crawford said Friday's meeting was to find out if other valley municipalities might be interested.

Operation of the system, he emphasized, would be feasible only to the extent that municipalities could use it without spending more funds than presently in a variety of fact finding situations.

Discuss Application

The Oshkosh city manager said he will meet Monday with university officials and with Dr. Wilbur A. Steger, president of a Pittsburgh, Pa., research firm, to discuss application for a systems development here.

3 Runaways From School for Boys Found in Appleton

Three of four runaway youths from St. Joseph School for Boys at Green Bay were taken into custody in Appleton about noon Friday.

Police, acting on a telephone tip, apprehended two of the boys in a vacant E. Wisconsin Avenue tavern and the third boy at a N. Kenilworth Street house.

The boys, two of them 14 years old and the other 13, were placed in juvenile detention in the Outagamie County Jail, pending their return to the Green Bay home which they left Thursday. The youths are from Appleton.

The fourth youth reportedly was apprehended in Winnebago County.

The three youths apprehended in Appleton said they hitchhiked here from Green Bay and slept Thursday night in an abandoned car near Wisconsin Avenue and Summit Street.

Byrnes Optimistic About New Building Despite U. S. Cutback

Appleton's new post office should have a good chance of proceeding on schedule despite the 75 per cent cutback in federal construction ordered by President Richard Nixon.

This was the word Friday from 8th District Rep. John Byrnes (R-Green Bay).

At the same time, 6th District Rep. William Steiger (R-Oshkosh), said he expected to learn Monday the fate of the planned regional post office facility at the Winnebago County Airport.

Byrnes said he has been "pushing hard" for the Appleton post office because of long-standing need here for a new facility.

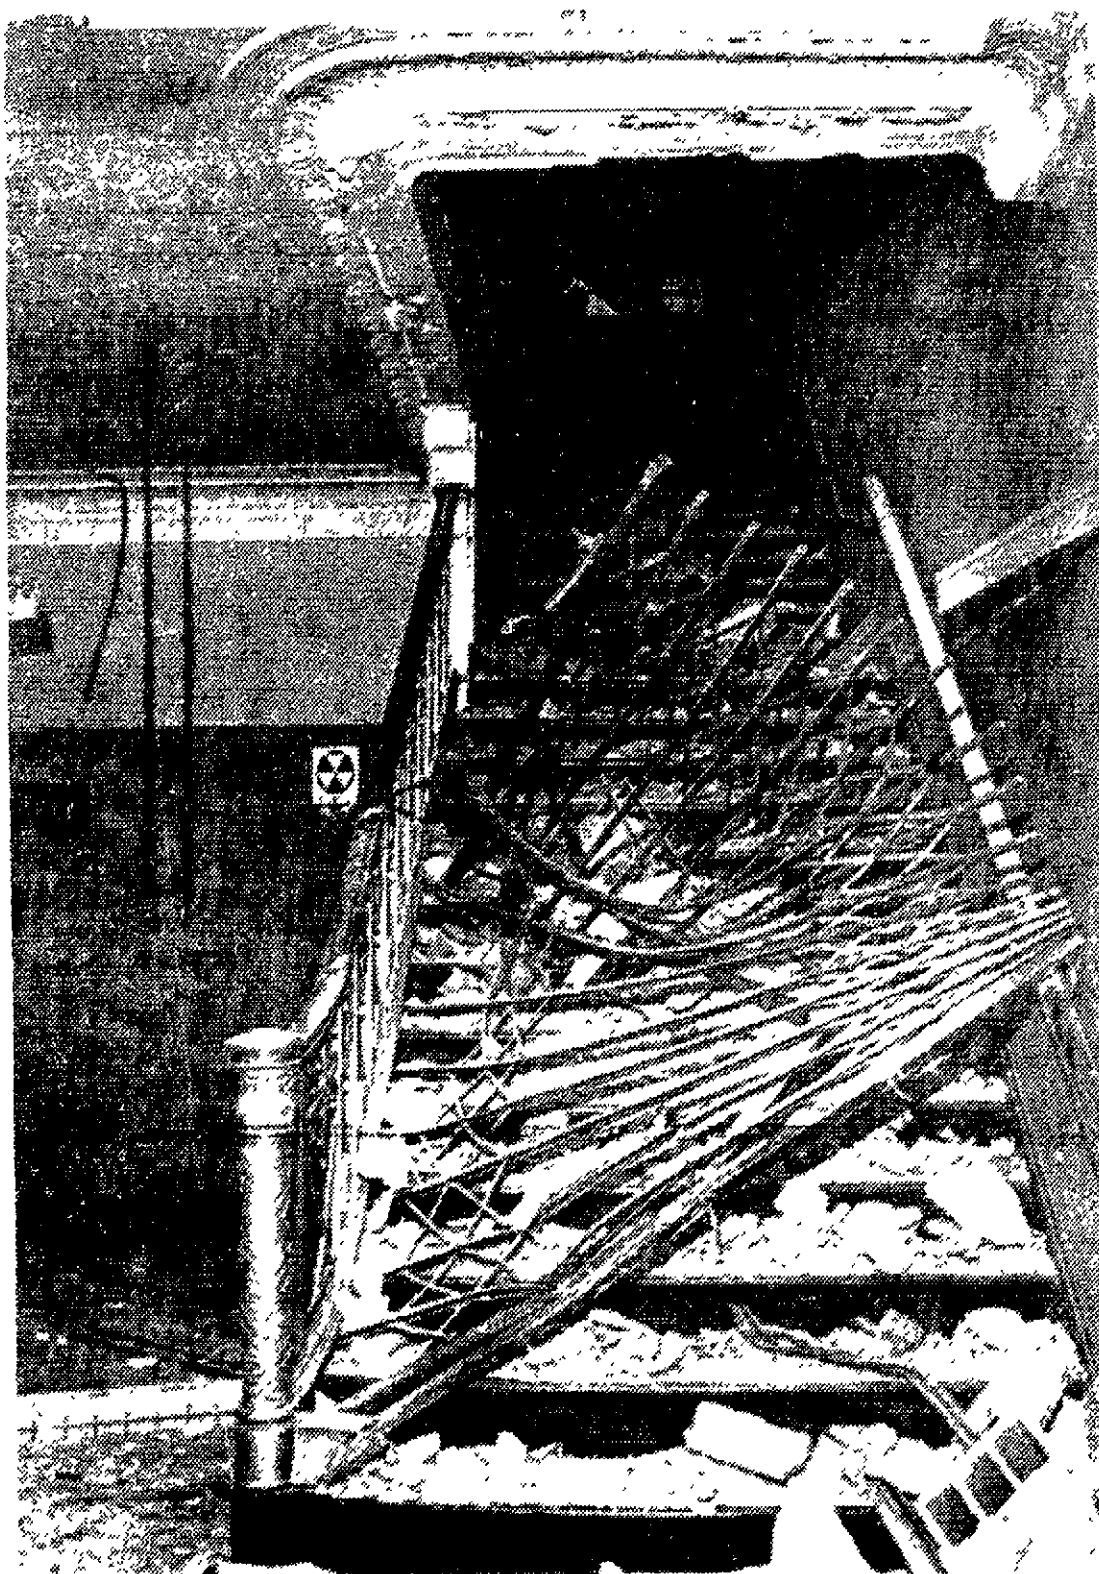

He added that he doubted any construction priority list would be released by the post office department but that they would simply go ahead on the needed projects.

The Appleton facility is scheduled to be built on a site along Division Street.

The multi-million dollar regional center at Oshkosh is to be built on property at the Winnebago County Airport along 20th Street, near the airport terminal.

Steiger said that at this point he has not received any word on whether the regional center will be included in the cutback.

The 75 per cent reduction in federal construction projects was announced last month by President Nixon as a step in fighting inflation. In the announcement it was reported that the construction cost index was increasing at an annual rate of 15 per cent.

Debris From a Bomb Explosion on the second floor of the Federal Building in downtown Milwaukee litters stairs and corridors. No one was injured in the blast at 2:30 a.m. Friday, believed to have been caused by a quantity of dynamite, with a timing device. The explosion blew out one wall, knocked plaster off of others, caved in the doors of two elevators, putting them out of operation, and may have done some structural damage to the building, officials said. Damage is estimated at more than $100,000. (AP Wirephoto)

Byrnes Warns That Cure For Inflation Is Painful

Democrats Blamed for Problems

MENASHA — Inflation is a disease for which the cure may be painful, Eighth District Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Green Bay, told nearly 400 Republican faithfuls at a fund raising dinner, Friday night sponsored by the Outagamie County, Neenah-Menasha and Oshkosh Republican clubs at Sabre Lanes.

Byrnes shared the speaker's platform with 6th District Rep. William Steiger of Oshkosh. Atty. Gen. Robert Warren of Green Bay was master of ceremonies.

The veteran Green Bay congressman, now in his 25th year in the House of Representatives, and the senior Republican on the powerful Ways and Means Committee, used the occasion to blast previous Democratic administrations which he blamed for creating today's economic problems.

"President Nixon inherited a colossal mess after eight years of Democratic control and the problems will not disappear in the immediate future," Byrnes said.

"The cure for a long Democratic drugg is a long sweating out process and the doctor may not be popular with the patient."

Too Much High Living

Byrnes said inflation was the result of high living, burning the economic candle from both ends and borrowing on tomorrow to pay for today's pleasures.

Byrnes said the inflationary trend started in 1965 and 1966 under "the great 89th Congress." The cure for inflation is a slow one, Byrnes warned. "Inflation does not show its effects immediately. Similarly, when it has taken a good hold, it takes time for the cure to have any effect."

He rejected wage and price controls as a means of combating inflation. "Controls dealt with the results of inflation and not the causes," Byrnes said.

The Green Bay congressman said the president's decision to order a 75 per cent cutback in federal construction programs "was not an easy one. But it is one of the penalties we must pay for what we inherited."

Byrnes warned, "You don't produce needed surpluses by cutting taxes and spending money, as did the Democrats. You do it by restraint in spending and by providing sufficient revenues and, when this is done, it is not popular."

He agreed that "nobody likes a government program cut back or a pet government project stopped, and nobody likes it when their taxes remain high or when the expansion in the money supply is restrained and money becomes scarcer."

Steiger Lauds Withdrawal

MENASHA — The withdrawal of American troops from Vietnam has been the greatest single accomplishment of the Nixon administration thus far, 6th District Rep. William Steiger told Winnebago and Outagamie County Republicans Friday night.

And, the youthful congressman added, the president has succeeded in "restoring the faith of people in the effectiveness of their government."

To achieve this, Steiger said, "the administration has had to give more attention to deeds than words, mental reform of social policy has been proposed and in general, "Nixon's plan of government has reduced apprehensions and tensions."

"We have been spared the emotional roller coaster rides of the Nixon's predecessor specialized in," Steiger said. "He has renounced personal or governmental flamboyance."

At the same time, Steiger noted that while President Richard Nixon was having problems getting a Vietnam settlement, the local Republican led Congress is either "unable to bring or unwilling to give the Nixon programs a fair hearing."

It can be said, however, that the crisis has been squarely faced and that there has been a vast improvement. It is a tribute to the success of the Nixon administration that Americans are thinking once again of what is possible and of what's wrong or impossible."

Central Paper Co. Merges Into Eastern Conglomerate

Central Paper Co., Menasha, and Alco Standard Corporation, Valley Forge, Pa., will be merged, according to an announcement made today by presidents of both firms.

Tinkham Veale II, Alco president, said an agreement in principle has been reached. An undisclosed number of Alco shares will be exchanged for all the outstanding common and preferred shares of Central.

Central Paper was started in 1918 by three Menasha businessmen. George Banta Sr. was the firm's first president and George Banta Jr. was the vice president.

The firm is presently manufacturing a full line of sealing gummed tapes, both plain and printed; box tapes, stay tapes, veneer and other tapes, a complete line of adding machine rolls, matching printed wrapping paper, notation and millinery bags and tapes.

Central has been credited with a number of firsts in the industry. The firm was the first to install a beta ray measuring device that aids in control of quality in a uniform manner; first to put a design on the gummed surface of its tapes to improve sticking and the elimination of air bubble; first to package rolls in cartons rather than tubes to permit easier handling and storage, and first

'Arm' Bangs Boat At Rail Crossing

Gary Handrich had just stopped at College Avenue and Memorial Drive about 4:25 a.m. today when suddenly this big "arm" came swinging down.

The arm, a railroad crossing gate, slammed down onto his boat, which he was towing behind his car.

Handrich, of 2401 Omro Road, Oshkosh, told Appleton police he was northbound on Memorial Drive and had just started out from the flashing red lights at College Avenue when the railroad signal bell started sounding for a northbound freight train.

Handrich said he stopped his car short of the tracks, but he forgot about the crossing arm which came down on the boat, causing an undetermined amount of damage.

Pedestrian Struck by Car, Suffers Injuries

John A. Howard, 67, 216 Lawrence Court, complained of pains to his right side after he was struck by a car while crossing Lawrence Street, near his home, about 9:25 p.m. Friday.

Police said Elmer J. Schultz, 57, 1128 Home Ave., Menasha, was turning left from Appleton Street onto Lawrence Street, when his car struck Howard as he was in the crosswalk, said the Police ticketed Schultz for failing to yield to a pedestrian.

Circle Saw Missing

Eugene Laska, 614 W. Fourth St., told Appleton police Friday that a $62 electric circle saw was stolen from his home. He who was in the crosswalk, said the saw was either in the Police ticketed Schultz for failing to shed.

Outagamie Fair Gets Budget Hike

The Outagamie County fair attendants increased to $200 will have a bigger price tag for 1970 — according to a budget recommended by the Outagamie County Agriculture Committee.

The panel voted Friday to back a $10,000 budget, representing a $1,000 hike from last year.

State funds may hit $4,800, according to Michael Burns, fair association president Short term loans listed at $800 bring slashed from $500 to $350 and the total 1970 fair budget to $15,600.

Although only $6,888 was spent in 1969 for premiums, the $7,000 was budgeted to allow cost of 1,400 fair books, said addition of an exhibition for adults. William Shaw, Outagamie County 4-H and youth leader said now only flowers have soared for truck, tractor and livestock may be exhibited and sound equipment. The allowance for equipment rental was increased from $700 in 1969 to $900 for 1970. The county paid $150 in salaries for fair judges and the addition of an open class judge, bringing the total to $850. Shaw said there were 23 judges in 1969. He said junior fair judges had been paid $15 in utilities.

Outagamie County while other counties paid $35.

Funds for paying air superintendents was increased from $200 in the 1969 budget to $400. The proposal called for $400 for parking remained at $350. In-junior fair superintendents and $60 for open class superintendents.

The expense of hiring building protection to $950.

Tieman Sets Pace

GBW Beats Rockets

BY GEORGE MANCOSKY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

GREEN BAY — A massive rushing assault, featuring hard-running Don Tieman and fleet Bill Mommaerts, produced 239 yards and a 31-12 Fox River Valley Conference triumph over Neenah at Lambeau Field Friday night.

In failing to avenge last season's only setback, the Rockets saw their record level off at 2-2 while the Wildcats now show the same mark.

The Bays carried only a 13-6 lead into the last stanza but in the frame they came up with three touchdowns, two after Neenah miscues, to stow away the victory. In all, they intercepted three passes and recovered two Rocket fumbles, one on the last play of the game.

Tieman broke through the Neenah defense for 135 yards by rushing in 30 attempts, including 146 in the first half, while Mommaerts collected 109 in 17 carries. Each scored a pair of touchdowns.

The Green Bay defense halted the Twin Cities at 53 yards rushing but they chalked up 128 through the air lanes on eight completions in 19 attempts. They could have done better except several potential ground gainers were dropped.

Sudden Thrusts

The fourth quarter was one of sudden scoring thrusts. During one span of less than a minute, three touchdowns were racked up on the big scoreboard, West accounting for two.

The Cats, who had scored on the second play of the last period, added another touchdown after a pass interception for a 26-6 score with 9:31 left in the game.

Neenah's Bob Block then made the most spectacular run of the night, bringing the next kickoff back 95 yards for its final touchdown.

Recovers Short Kick

The Red and White tried a short kick but West recovered on its 41 and on the initial play, Mommaerts, a sprinter on the track team, swept 59 yards for a 6-point with 8:55.

Although Neenah never had the lead, it only trailed, 7-6, until 1:10 left in the first half when the Bays climaxed a 79-yard drive with Tieman's 14-yard blast through the right side.

West started to drive after the opening kickoff but lost the ball on a fumble on Neenah's 41 while a march a few minutes later ended in Dave Peot's muffed field goal from the 29.

The victors went 52 yards in seven plays for their first score in their third shot at the ball, Tieman tallying from the one. Peot booted the first of his three extra points.

Hawley to Arpin

On the initial play after the kickoff Neenah halfback Pat Hawley and end John Arpin, who made three nice receptions totaling 98 yards, combined on a

Packers Seek to Keep Undisputed Lead in Division

By BOB GREENE

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Standing all alone atop the Central Division standings, the Green Bay Packers Sunday will attempt to increase their lead in the march toward their fourth National Football League championship in five years.

The Packers will meet the San Francisco 49ers at 1 p.m. (CDT) at Milwaukee County Stadium, the second consecutive Green Bay "home" opener.

With all other Central Division teams losing last week, the Packers moved out front with a 17-0 victory over the Chicago Bears.

This week, Minnesota meets powerful Baltimore while Chicago takes on St. Louis and Detroit plays surprising New York.

While the Packers are shooting to run their record to 2-0, they are not forgetting last year when the 49ers scored 20 points.

Bucks, Suns Duel Tonight In Exhibition

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The two top newcomers to the National Basketball Association face each other here tonight when the Milwaukee Bucks and the Phoenix Suns open their exhibition seasons.

Operating at center for the Bucks will be 7-foot-2 Lew Alcindor, the three-time All-American from UCLA who has been highly impressive in early walk-outs.

Starting at forward for the Suns will be Connie Hawkins, voted the most valuable player in the rival American Basketball Association last year and the man Alcindor has called the best player in the game.

Milwaukee and Phoenix were the two worst teams in the NBA last season. The two newcomers mean brighter days ahead for both clubs.

Florida State Wins Over Miami, 16-14

MIAMI (AP) — Grant Guthrie's third field goal of a close, error-filled football game brought Florida State from behind with 1:55 to go Friday night to a 16-14 victory over the Miami Hurricanes.

Bill Cappleman drove the Seminoles from their own 10 into position for the winning kick after Miami had gone in front in the fourth quarter on a five yard touchdown pass from David Teal to Rick Strawbridge.

Miami breezed to a first period 7-0 lead on an 85 yard, 11-play drive climaxed by sophomore Tom Sullivan's one yard dive over the goal.

Then, in rapid succession, a blocked field goal and two Miami fumbles inside its own 20 enabled the Seminoles to rack up 13 points and take a 13-7 margin into the final quarter.

Sullivan's downing of a Florida State punt on the Seminole one led to the touchdown that put Miami in front with 9:04 left in the game.

Frank Whigham's punt carried out only to the 33 and Teal, who had replaced Lew Pytel in Miami's battle for the quarterback spot at the start of the second half, led the Hurricanes to the score.

Papermaker Gridders Rip Shawano

BY ED VAN BERKEL
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

KIMBERLY — Scoring in every period, the Kimberly Papermakers rolled to a 36-0 win over Shawano here Friday night thereby taking over sole possession of first place in the Mid-Eastern Conference as the Two Rivers Raiders were upset by Kaukauna.

So convincing was the Kimberly win, the Shawano Indians finished with a minus 15 in rushing yardage although 72 yards in the passing column enabled them to finish with a net 57.

Kimberly meanwhile, led by Tim Vander Velden, ran up 185 yards on the ground and another 202 through the air. Vander Velden finished with 108 yards in 18 carries, besides being on the receiving end of a Dan Blasjeski aerial.

The Papermakers proved to be their own worst enemy in chalking up the win as they were whistled for 13 violations for a total of 100 yards in three penalties.

Cover 62 Yards

The hosts scored the first time they got their hands on the ball, covering 62 yards in six plays, big gainer being a 35-yard pass from Blasjeski to Rob Ristau. Vander Velden barged over for the score from five yards out with 6:41 left in the opening period. He also ran for the 2-point conversion and an 8-0 advantage.

The Indians managed two first downs after receiving the kick, but a fumble by the quarterback was recovered by Greg Van Grinsven, his first of two, on the Kimberly 39 to set up the second score. Vander Velden and Jim Rusch tore holes through the Shawano line and Blasjeski hit Jim Gage and Vander Velden on pass plays, the latter good for 10 yards and the score. Rusch ran over the PAT for another two points with 17 seconds left in the first period.

Penalties kept Kimberly from moving the next time it took over the ball, but two plays after a punt Van Grinsven recovered his second Shawano fumble to give the winners

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Lee Trevino, the recognized comic of pro golf, has been at home only 25 days this year, but he refuses to drag his wife and 4-year-old daughter around on the tour.

However, after his wife, Claudia, and daughter, Leslie, joined him at the Alcan Golfier of the Year Tournament, Trevino fired a 5-under par 67 and took the second round lead Friday.

"I was more relaxed today," Trevino said of the round which, with his 70 on Thursday, gave him a 7-under par 137 in the international competition for a

Joe Louis Perplexed by 'Mental Letdown' Reports

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Joe Louis read about his "complete mental letdown" Friday and was not angered, just perplexed. After a while, he laughed.

"I'm fine," the former heavyweight boxing champion said. "That's all I know. I checked my own self into the hospital because I had a week off is all. I'm just taking care of myself, seeing I don't get fatigued any more."

The 56-year-old bomber left Detroit's Henry Ford Hospital Thursday for Wichita Falls, Tex., where he spent the night refereeing a wrestling match. He did the same here Friday night.

"Dr. Bennett has always been my doctor and I don't know what he said or anything like that. All I know is there's nothing wrong with me."

Dr. Robert C. Bennett had been quoted as saying psychological and neurological tests were being conducted on Louis at Henry Ford to determine the cause of "an emotional and mental letdown."

"Quite Natural" "It's quite natural for me to get rundown sometimes," Louis said. "A different city every week, different water and food."

Braves Win to Retain 1 1/2-Game Lead in West

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

"A wonderful feeling," said Orlando Cepeda.

"Not as pleasing as it should be," said Phil Niekro. That's what brotherly love will do for you.

Cepeda, you see, unloaded on Niekro's brother, Joe, with a grand slam homer that triggered the Atlanta Braves to a 10-4 victory over San Diego Friday night and lowered their magic number in the National League West to four.

Of course, Phil wasn't entirely innocent. He hurled eight innings for his 22nd triumph and started the Braves' big six-run third with a single, one of his three hits.

Elsewhere, San Francisco, 1 1/2 games behind Atlanta, kept pace with a 2-1 triumph over Los Angeles. Cincinnati took two from Houston 3-0 on Jim Maloney's one-hitter and 4-3, the East Division champion New York Mets blanked Philadelphia 5-0, Pittsburgh tripped the Chicago Cubs 2-0 and St. Louis shelled Montreal 12-1.

Take 3-0 Lead

The Padres, who have been playing their role as spoilers to perfection, jumped to a 3-0 lead against the Braves on Ivan Murrell's two-run single in the first inning and Tommy Dean's homer in the second.

But singles by Phil Niekro, Felix Millan and Tony Gonzalez loaded the bases for the Braves in the third and a one-out walk to Rico Carly forced in the first run. Cepeda then smacked his big blow, the fifth grand slam of his career and 22nd homer of the season, finishing Joe Niekro. Clete Boyer homered off Frank Reberger for the final run of the inning.

"It feels great to see those boys going around in front of you," Cepeda said. "It's a wonderful feeling."

But Niekro felt for his brother. "It was the hardest game he ever had to pitch," Phil said. "He wants us to win the pennant as bad as we do. He was in one hell of a bad spot."

Phil said he doesn't like to pitch against Joe, although this was the fourth time the brothers have faced each other.

"That's far enough," said Phil. "I've won two games and he's won two. That's enough."

Hank Aaron drilled his 44th homer in the fourth—one short of his career high—and the Braves added two in the fifth and one in the seventh. Phil Niekro gave way to Hoyt Wilhelm after eight innings.

Interim Pilot Unbeaten

Ed Popowski Directs Bosox to Another Win

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

If things keep going the way they have been, Eddie Popowski could become the first manager in the history of baseball to leave his job without ever having lost a game.

Popowski was named to lead the Boston Red Sox over the final week of the season after Dick Williams was fired last Tuesday. He was, the Red Sox said, strictly an interim manager with a new permanent man to be named after the season.

It has been a most interesting interim for Popowski.

The Red Sox have won four straight games since the change, the most recent a 6-5 decision over Detroit Friday night which moved Boston into a second place deadlock with the Tigers in the American League's East Division.

Elsewhere Friday night, Washington dropped Cleveland 4-1, New York trimmed Baltimore 4-2, Kansas City defeated Chicago 5-3, Oakland topped California 3-1 and Seattle took Minnesota 4-3 in 14 innings.

Most of Damage

Rico Petrocelli, one of Popowski's star pupils when the Red Sox' interim boss was a fulltime minor league manager, did most of the damage against the Tigers.

He tagged a pair of doubles, driving in three runs including the tie-breaker in the seventh inning. That gave the heavy hitting shortstop 95 runs batted in for the season.

Mike Andrews opened the game with a home run for the Sox.

Lee Maye's fifth inning grand slam homer accounted for all of Washington's runs as the Senators beat the Indians.

Maye connected on a 3-2 pitch with two out after Washington had loaded the bases on three walks. The second pass went to winning pitcher Joe Coleman, who fouled off 13 pitches before he walked.

Baltimore, with 108 victories, is still three short of Cleveland's 1954 American League record of 111 victories. The Orioles have five games remaining.

Mike Fiore tagged a two-run homer in the ninth inning, carrying Kansas City past Chicago. Jerry Adair had tied the game an inning earlier with a three-run blast for the Royals. Bill Melton connected for Chicago.

Catcher Dave Duncan celebrated his 24th birthday with a two-run homer that helped Oakland beat California. It was the A's 85th victory—their highest total since 1948 when they were playing in Philadelphia.

Wayne Comer's two-out homer in the 14th inning carried the Pilots past Minnesota. Greg Goossen had connected earlier for Seattle and the Twins' Harmon Killebrew took over the major league homer lead with his 48th of the season.

Two Rivers' Streak Cut by Kaukauna

TWO RIVERS — Kaukauna High School's Ghosts scored their biggest football win in a number of years Friday night when they upset Two Rivers, the state's seventh-ranked team.

Kaukauna stung the Raiders with a pair of first-half touchdowns and made them stand up for a 14-8 decision that snapped Two Rivers' 3-season win streak at 16 games.

LeRoy Wenzel scored on a 9-yard run and quarterback Karl Mueller tallied from one yard out as the Ghosts boosted their Mid-Eastern Conference record to 2-1 and over-all mark to 3-1. Paul Fassbender kicked both extra points.

John Hoffman scored Two Rivers' touchdown, in the third quarter, from seven yards away, and Jeff Peterson ran for a 2-point conversion. For the Raiders, who are now 1-1 in the conference and 3-1 over-all, it was the first defeat since losing to Neenah early in the 1967 season.

Dominates Play

Kaukauna dominated the action in the first half as it ran off 38 offensive plays and permitted Two Rivers only 12. For the entire game, the Ghosts had 62 plays in their ball-control strategy, while the Raiders managed only 38.

Wenzel led the way, with 102 yards in 30 carries. Fassbender added 75 yards in 22 carries. Their 52 total carries exceeded the entire Two Rivers play total by 14.

After the opening kickoff, the Ken Roloff-coached Ghosts march 69 yards in 14 running plays, to score. Wenzel's 9-yarder capped the drive. Kaukauna's second TD march began late in the first quarter after a fumble recovery by Dan Deering ended with 10:20 remaining in the second period. Mueller climaxed the 11-play, 32-yard drive from the 1-yard line.

In the first half, Two Rivers' best penetration was to the Kaukauna 39.

In the third quarter, the Raiders put together a 51-yard drive to score. They were aided by a pass interference call on Kaukauna on a fourth-and-11 play from the Ghost 16. Hoffman scored from the 7, and Peterson's PAT run cut the margin to 14-8.

Kaukauna stymied the Raiders the rest of the way, and the Raiders' deepest advance in the final period was the Ghost 45.

The inspired Kaukauna defense held Hoffman to 25 yards in eight carries. Last week, he gained 144 yards against Menomonie. Jeff Schmidt led Two Rivers with 28 yards in 13 tries.

Summary:

Kaukauna 7 7 0 0—14
Two Rivers 0 0 8 0—8

Agnew Versus Finch on Desegregation

Vice President Spiro Agnew received hearty applause at the Southern Governors' Conference when he flatly said that "it's never been Administration policy to impose bussing as a way to achieve racial balance."

A White House statement the next day upheld Mr. Agnew's point of view.

But the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, Robert Finch, doesn't quite agree.

In a television interview, Secretary Finch said "you can't rule out bussing. I mean, bussing is there. Every district practically in the country uses buses to move people from one place to another."

This would seem to make the matter clear. But the Nixon Administration has been blowing hot and cold on the matter of desegregating schools, particularly in the South.

A Standstill Cease-Fire in Vietnam?

Cyrus Vance, formerly one of our team of negotiators in Paris, has a "standstill cease-fire" as the first step in finding a real way to end the war in Vietnam and to get the majority of American troops out.

According to Mr. Vance, this type of cease-fire would not require that anyone withdraw from areas they hold in South Vietnam. He maintains that such an idea is unrealistic because the members of the Viet Cong are not North Vietnamese and can hardly be expected to leave what they argue is their homeland and head north even though their allies are there.

Already President Thieu has rejected the plan and it is easy to see why. In effect it would be countenancing the right of the National Liberation Front to parts of South Vietnam — the areas the Viet Cong now occupy or control.

It is as difficult as ever to know what is going on militarily in Vietnam. Military authorities continue to insist that we have won or are winning although that light at the end of the tunnel seems as far away as ever.

Malawi Deals With the Devil

The theory that politics generally follow economic considerations is borne out pretty well in the tiny, landlocked nation of Malawi in Africa.

Malawi was formed by European colonial agreements some 80 years ago and was called Nyasaland until its independence in 1964. It is only 36,000 square miles with a population of four million, members of several different tribes.

But Malawi differs from the other black-controlled African nations because of its cooperation with the apartheid governments of South Africa and Rhodesia.

Malawi is run by Dr. Kamuzu Banda, a doctor educated in the United States, who takes a hard-headed and realistic view of his nation's problems. He is firmly opposed to colonialism and apartheid rule but he flatly says that "not every African state is in a position to do what is right in the way of helping our African brothers still under colonial rule or intrusion."

Looking Backward
Post Office Credit to Appleton

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for Oct. 2, 1869.

The new Post Office is a credit to the city and Judge Myers deserves the thanks of the public both for the location and its internal accommodations.

The Appleton Post Office now has at least one-third more boxes and drawers than the Green Bay office, and more than any other city or town from Green Bay to Oshkosh, the second city of the state.

We have been receiving inquiries frequently on when we intended publishing the premium list for the Fair. To make one reply to all, and all a revolt among members of the Justice Department's Civil Rights Division. In seeking to calm the dissident lawyers, Jerris Leonard, chief of the division, pointed to "persuasion and leadership backed by Federal coercion" as the means the Administration would use to encourage desegregation.

It's been more than fifteen years since the United States Supreme Court ruled segregated schools unconstitutional and that would seem to have been adequate time for programs of desegregation to have been planned in every school district.

The conflict within the Administration is deeper than attitudes toward segregation. Some Republicans are hoping to build a strong base in the South and woo white voters away from George Wallace or similar ultra conservative candidates in future elections.

But right now it often appears that some of President Nixon's closest advisors are going off in several different directions.

said that the enemy was beaten but it might take one or two more years to wind things up. Since then 9,000 American servicemen have been killed and the casualty rates remain about the same. Apparently at least some of the enemy don't agree with Admiral McCain's estimate. And while the Nixon Administration has been ordering gradual withdrawals of some American combat troops, it is too early to tell whether the South Vietnamese actually can take over the war.

We have some doubts about Mr. Vance's proposals — for one thing, they are complicated and depend upon the willingness of the enemy to cooperate, which so far it has shown little inclination to do.

generally arranges his party's Congress at the time of the meetings of the Organization of African Unity and sends his regrets to the latter.

The figures show why he remains on good terms with the white-run nations. South Africa is contributing $12 million toward the building of a new capitol for Malawi and financed a rail link to the Mozambique port of Nacali on the Indian Ocean with $11 million. South African medical students work in Malawi bush villages and a South African runs the Malawi Information Department.

Dr. Banda is also currently trying to improve relations with his black neighbors, Tanzania and Zambia. But he has expressed no interest in changing his attitudes and policies toward South Africa and Rhodesia.

Scientists Think They May be Able To Predict Earthquakes in Future

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — Scientists, using instruments deep underground, are trying to learn whether there is a link between earthquakes and the rapid buildup of tension in rock.

Cost of School Bond Issue 36c Per Week

Editor, The Post-Crescent:
We, of C.A.R.E. (Citizens Actions Regarding Education), would like to make known the following facts to all members of the Kaukauna School District who CARE enough to become informed. The following is a breakdown of the $1.8 million school bond issue:

- 1. $70,000, for purchase of Island Street property for high school physical education area.
- 2. $10,000, for kitchen expansion for the high school because the space for storage and equipment is now inadequate.
- 3. $150,000, for the four room addition to Quinney School.
- 4. $1,570,000, for the new school. This would include everything such as street, sewer, water, furnishings, landscaping including the athletic field and play areas. Architects fees in the amount of $54,000 would also have to come out of this amount if George Narovec is replaced. If he is not replaced, $54,000 would be saved since he has already been paid.

The bids for the new school have not been made. The Board of Education hopes that when the bids are made, they will amount to less than the $1,570,000 allocated for the new school. Any money left over will be used for retiring the bond. The $1.8 million will be invested immediately after it is obtained, and any interest secured from this investment will also be applied to retiring the bond.

The estimated tax increase because of the bond issue is $3.50 per each $1000 for which your property is assessed. Since the average house in the Kaukauna School District is assessed at $5,000, this would mean a total of $17.50 tax increase per year. To break this down further, this tax increase would amount to $1.46 per month or 36 cents a week for the average homeowner in the Kaukauna School District.

We now ask this: Is it worth 36 cents to you per week, ter, Mary Ellen Veitch, Dick Gosse, Larry Morey, Byron Wendt, Marlene Wagner.

Norbert Hietpas received a Legion Honor button for outstanding service, attendance and membership promotion in Vandebroek Catholic Order of Foresters at Little Chute.

compresses and the tension buildup starts all over again. Drs. Kenneth Cook of the University of Utah and Maurice W. Major of the Colorado School of Mines began measuring the tension buildup last October, using instruments designed by Major.

IN VAULT OF CHURCH
The equipment was installed in the records vault of the Mormon Church about 20 miles southeast of Salt Lake City and 2,000 feet underground in the Wasatch Mountains.

Cook says a tremor which measured 2.3 on the Richter scale Jan. 23 came at the peak of a lunar tide and after a rapid buildup of rock tension.

"Our observation on Jan. 23 may have hit the jackpot," he said. "But on the other hand it may have been a mere coincidence. We need more data to prove or disprove the tidal theory."

He noted that the next tremor, which registered 2.2 on the Richter scale, happened when the tide was not strong. Again, however, there had been a rapid buildup of rock tension several days before the tremor.

Cook says the causes of the buildup in rock tension are not known and that much more study is needed.

"Our results so far offer the hope — but not the promise — for earthquake prediction in the future," Cook said. "We may have to operate our instruments for several years to gather sufficient data."

MEASURING SLIPPAGE
Cook and Major are measuring slippage of the Wasatch fault, about 1½ miles west of the records vault. They have attached measuring devices to long quartz rods, which they say can detect movement down to one-one-hundred-thousandth of an inch on a rod 100-feet long.

The scientists say the underground records chamber is ideal because of the constant temperature control and because of the unique location deep in granite. The methods they are using have been used before in other places, but not in a location as well suited to such tests.

Cook says valleys in Utah and in Africa both were formed by the earth's crust pulling apart. He says huge portions of the earth are gradually cracking apart.

Cook predicts that if this process continues, millions of years from now a great body of water — like the Red Sea — will separate the United States through Utah and Arizona.

Jaycettes Thank City
For Project Concern Aid

Editor, The Post-Crescent:
The Appleton Jaycettes wish to thank the people of Appleton and the surrounding area for making it possible for Dr. Jim Turpin, founder of Project Concern, to visit our city Friday, Sept. 19.

In order to have Dr. Turpin speak here, we were challenged to prove there was a community interest. The news story which appeared in The Post-Crescent last spring was excellently written and helped us to publicize the Project Concern Drive.

Because the citizens of Appleton and organizations like the Northside Kiwanis Club and the Appleton Jaycees contributed to our campaign, we were able to convince the Wisconsin Committee for Project Concern that our valley really wanted to hear this nationally known humanitarian. The Post-Crescent supported us again this fall by informing the valley of the approaching Dr. Turpin dinner program. WKAU, WAPL, and WHBY radio stations gave us public service spot advertisements and WKAU interviewed our Jaycettes and Dr. Turpin of the Open Line Program.

Those people that were at the dinner know why we felt it important for our valley to meet and hear this great man.

Keppler Experiments
With Team Approach
In Senate Leadership

By ERNEST KEPPLER
MADISON -- An experiment is going on in the Wisconsin Senate this year. There are the doubting Thomases but doubts always accompany the testing of ideas. Whether it succeeds or fails will be my responsibility ity as majority leader. The idea's premise is that legislators have above average competence, intelligence and good judgment. This is proven by their above average personal success and achievements which is a matter of record.

Just as the "political boss" has disappeared from the Wisconsin scene as citizens' knowledge of government has increased, so has the quality of legislators improved. Likewise, any need for legislative leaders to exercise a father attitude in managing the legislature has evaporated.

Consequently, the role of a legislative leader is difficult because he is not working with mere followers, but rather with individuals who, by virtue of election to public office, are actually selected leaders. There is no reason for a dictator-type super leader in such a group. Constituents do not expect their elected representatives to be rubber stamps.

TEAM IDEA PARAMOUNT
Of course we recognize every organized group must have its head and so a legislative body must have its chosen leaders too. However, I believe such a leader's role should be like a steward or coordinator. Rather than insist on the acceptance of his ideas he ought to accede to the group's collective wisdom, and then proceed to carry out its decision.

Is FBI Persecuting
Black Panthers?

Editor, The Post-Crescent:

The surprising headline, "Black Panthers Pose Threat to Internal Security of U.S.," caught my eye the other day (Tuesday, September 16) because as an occasional reader of the Black Panther newspaper, I have a special interest in the white press' coverage of that organization.

I love this country of ours for what it is striving to become, for what it promises to be someday, more than for what it is at the present time. For although my life here has been filled with joy and I have never suffered want and hardship, I know that life is not yet so agreeable for many millions of Americans. When a group of my fellow countrymen who are disenfranchised and desperate band together for the purpose of forging a better life for themselves, as the Black Panthers have done, I must welcome their challenge to America to make good its promise to them. Far from being a "threat to internal security," they are, rather, a threat to the very real oppression and racism responsible for their plight, and as such they are working to perfect our nation.

Mr. Edward Hayes of the FBI was quoted as saying that the FBI is "closely watching" the operations of the Panthers. Maybe he is right and the FBI is just watching; other branches of our nation's police take more direct action, namely, raiding Panther offices in our major cities, smashing mimeo machines, seizing literature and money, and arresting members on obscure charges.

Just as I object to secret meetings of county board

I believe this kind of leader, more likely than the domineering leader, who frequently uses the tools of fear and implied threat, will achieve a team spirit so essential at times. This kind of leader will more easily have available to him the talents, energy and wisdom of his fellow legislators including those who would otherwise resist and not cooperate with a domineering leader.

This approach will result in the more active involvement of the whole team, and the working atmosphere will improve because of a greater mutual trust. Responsibilities, along with the accompanying titles and prestige are decentralized and divided among more of the team's members. This will make for a better esprit de corps.

LESS DEPENDENCE ON LEADER

The assumption of responsibility by more of the legislators results in less dependence on the leader; this is a healthy condition. Of course, as all this occurs the leader's personality must be able to accept his decreasing role as a single force. After all, there is natural reluctance by human beings to give up something of importance, in this case, power.

Also, this kind of leader must be willing to share with his fellow legislators the public spotlight which substantially could be his by virtue of his position. Almost every group, for example, has some persons with strong personalities combined with the unusual ability and they will naturally shine. Why not share the spotlight if it means they are willing to work hard and make important contributions?

Yes, this kind of leader must be willing to submerge his own ego within himself to obtain a maximum of cooperation and make the greatest use of his fellow legislators' abilities by channeling them into a coordinated effort toward the common goal of good government.

This, then, is the general nature of the experiment going on this year in the State Senate. I am hopeful it will succeed and prove that the domineering leader-type is not needed in today's government in order for a legislative body to arrive at a decision, but rather that an appeal to reason, in a reasonable manner, will more assuredly result in wiser decisions and better government for the people.

committees, I worry about decisions secretly made by our government to wage war on groups of citizens whom they consider dangerous. I think that all of us who love America have reason to be concerned about the decision to wipe out the Black Panthers, especially when no such vigorous decision has ever been made regarding the Ku Klux Klan, which holds hundreds of Southern black communities in terror. One cannot help but wonder about the fact that to date sixteen Panthers have been arrested in connection with the alleged murder of a young black man on the East Coast, and yet no one has ever been apprehended in the case of the four little black girls bombed to death on September 14, 1963, in Birmingham, and Medgar Evers' murderer is still free. Such contrasts in our nation's prosecuting may seem mere coincidence to us white citizens; I seriously doubt that the black people of this country share our nonchalance.

I would like to know the basis on which the FBI determines that an organization poses a threat to the internal security of the U.S. While awaiting such an explanation, I would recommend that we think about whether our democracy can survive when a segment of our population, albeit a tiny segment, is under an attack worthy of a fascist state.

U.S. Won't Enter Soviet Sub Race

GROTON, Conn. (AP) — Defense Secretary Melvin Laird said today the United States, trailing in numbers, has decided or now not to challenge the Soviet Union ship-for-ship in new submarine construction.

He left open the possibility his could change, depending on the outcome of a high-level review of military needs being conducted by the Nixon administration.

Bolivia Junta Might Seize Oil Properties

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — In its first official act, Bolivia's new military junta canceled a law under which a U.S.-owned oil company has been operating.

Gen. Alfredo Ovando Candia, who seized power Friday from President Adolfo Siles Salinas, met with his new cabinet for three hours and then announced the annulment of the nation's petroleum code.

The code granted Bolivian Gulf Oil Co. ownership of oil resources and set up a plan of profit-sharing with the state.

Ovando said the legislation was drafted by a New York law firm and was prejudicial to Bolivian interests and "a restriction on the income the state should receive from profits and royalties."

He said the future of the company, a subsidiary of Gulf Oil Corp., had not been decided. He did not rule out the possibility of nationalizing the firm's properties, but said "those are details that will be studied later on."

Under the petroleum code, 33.5 per cent of Bolivian Gulf's profits and 11 per cent of its wellhead production went to the government. Company spokesmen said Gulf Oil invested about $140 million in Bolivian oil production from 1957 to 1968.

Ovando said in a message to the peasants that his government would "make more profound the Bolivian land reform" of 1953. And he issued a statement pledging to secure national sovereignty over the sources of production; improve the already nationalized mining industry; promote heavy industry; establish a nationalistic economic policy; and protect workers' rights.

Ovando, 52, commander in chief of Bolivia's armed forces and the front-runner in a presidential campaign that was just getting under way, seized power from Siles while the president was in Santa Cruz for a celebration.

Siles later took off from Santa Cruz in a small plane, presumably to go into exile in Chile.

Ardell Reider to Serve as Queen at Kimberly Game

KIMBERLY — The queen and court were named this week at Kimberly High School in preparation for Friday's homecoming battle with Two Rivers.

Elected queen was Ardell Reider. Senior class representatives will be Barbara Nett and Patricia Van Dalen. Junior representatives will be Elizabeth Gaffney and Karen Kempf and sophomore representatives will be Catherine Ludes and Karen Peters.

The parade will begin at 4 p.m. Friday from the high school parking lot, travel north on John Street to Kimberly Avenue, east on Kimberly to Main Street, north on Main to Maes Street, east on Maes to Pine Street, south on Pine to Kimberly Avenue and then west of Kimberly Avenue to the athletic field.

Little Chute to Play Host to 25 Pastors

LITTLE CHUTE — About 25 Lutheran pastors and laymen will participate in Northern Wisconsin Synod's Missionary Conference to be held at St. Luke Lutheran Church Monday and Tuesday.

Representatives are expected for Northeastern Wisconsin, Upper Michigan and Sault Ste. Marie, Canada. The Rev. James Diener will serve as secretary and host pastor. Theological papers will be presented by the Rev. Verve Voss, Stambaugh, Mich., and the Rev. Paul Borchardt, Sheboygan.

Chairman of the mission board, Rev. Marvin Radtke, Eagle River, will lead a panel discussion and a report will be given by the Rev. Theodore Sauer, Manitowoc, district president. Conferences will begin after a noon meal Monday.

Pastor Diener will be liturgist for a 7:30 p.m. Monday Holy Communion service.

Transfer Fee for Real Estate Sales Is Effective Oct. 1

Wisconsin's new real estate transfer fee law becomes effective Oct. 1, according to Outagamie County Register of Deeds D. P. Peeters.

The law imposes a real estate transfer fee at the rate of 10 cents for each $100 value or fraction of $100 of value on most transfers of real property, Peeters said.

The fee is to be paid by the seller and will be collected at the time the deed or other instrument of conveyance is presented for recording to the register of deeds.

Peeters said the transfer fee return must be filled out and given to his office along with the fee when the new deed of real estate has his own record.

A limited supply of the forms and accompanying instructions is available at the register of deeds offices.

Peeters pointed out that if documents to be recorded are mailed to his office, the real estate transfer return and proper fee or a statement of exemption must accompany the conveyances. If the items are not included with conveyances reaching the register of deeds offices on or after Oct. 1, they cannot be recorded.

Transfer Fee for Real Estate Sales Is Effective Oct. 1

Wisconsin's new real estate transfer fee law becomes effective Oct. 1, according to Outagamie County Register of Deeds D. P. Peeters.

The law imposes a real estate transfer fee at the rate of 10 cents for each $100 value or fraction of $100 of value on most transfers of real property, Peeters said.

The fee is to be paid by the seller and will be collected at the time the deed or other instrument of conveyance is presented for recording to the register of deeds.

Peeters said the transfer fee return must be filled out and given to his office along with the fee when the new deed of real estate has his own record.

A limited supply of the forms and accompanying instructions is available at the register of deeds offices.

Peeters pointed out that if documents to be recorded are mailed to his office, the real estate transfer return and proper fee or a statement of exemption must accompany the conveyances. If the items are not included with conveyances reaching the register of deeds offices on or after Oct. 1, they cannot be recorded.

No Generation Gap

BY LORRAINE RAY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

If there's a generation gap, it runs and hides when The New Christy Minstrels take over a stage, and in a matter of minutes take over the audience.

This extremely talented group of eight "young adults" utilizes just the right blend of voices, music and personality to completely charm the audience and wrap them up in one big package.

And, obviously, this is what they love doing best. It's hard next to tell who's having the most fun — the performers or the audience.

At least that's what happened that knows no age limitations — performance was Simon and wards.

Young Hobby Club Glamorize Old File-Folder With Colorful Assorted Photos

BY CAPPY DICK

If you have an old, beat-up file folder which you use at home to hold school papers, you can give it a brand new appearance by decorating it with cutouts of your favorite entertainment stars.

Big Improvement

The first thing to do is to cover the brown surface of the ordinary folder with colorful construction paper. Glue it in place. Use a color that will provide a lively background for the pictures you will apply.

Go through your old magazines and clip out portraits, preferably in color, of your favorite singers and instrumentalists. Trim the heads carefully and glue them to the outside of the file folder as well as to the inside areas that are visible when the folder is open.

Chances are it will be a lot more fun to use the folder after it has been glamorized than it was before.

Man Critical After Being Hit by Car

OSU Student Laying In Middle of Road, According to Driver

OSHKOSH — An Oshkosh State University student is in critical condition at Mercy Medical Center after being struck by an auto on State 44 near its intersection with Winnebago County Trunk FF at 4:54 a.m. today.

The accident victim is Robert J. Wheaton, 26, Ripon, a former patrolman on the Ripon Police Force. He was struck by an auto being driven southwest on State 44 by John Jay Taylor, 651A Division St., also an OSU student and a resident of Waukesha.

Taylor told Winnebago County Police he noticed an object lying across the center line of the highway, but could not avoid hitting it by the time he had determined it was a body.

He said Wheaton was lying on his back on the road with his hands resting under the back of his head, and an auto was parked off the road nearby.

Wheaton was taken to Mercy with gashes to his chest and extensive head injuries. Hospital officials said he immediately entered surgery and still was in surgery as of late this morning.

The sheriff's department is investigating circumstances of the accident. Taylor was driving an auto owned by Stanley L. Obrey, Ripon.

Appleton Man Gets Governor's Award

MADISON — Philip J. Sealy, vice president of the Fox River Paper Mills, Appleton, was one of five state individuals presented the governor's awards in the arts by Governor Warren P. Knowles Friday.

The awards are given for contribution to culture activities. Two organizations were also honored.

Recipients in addition to Sealy were Warrington Colescott, Aaron Bohrod and James Watrous, all of the University of Wisconsin's Madison campus, and Mrs. Ronald A. Dougan, Beloit.

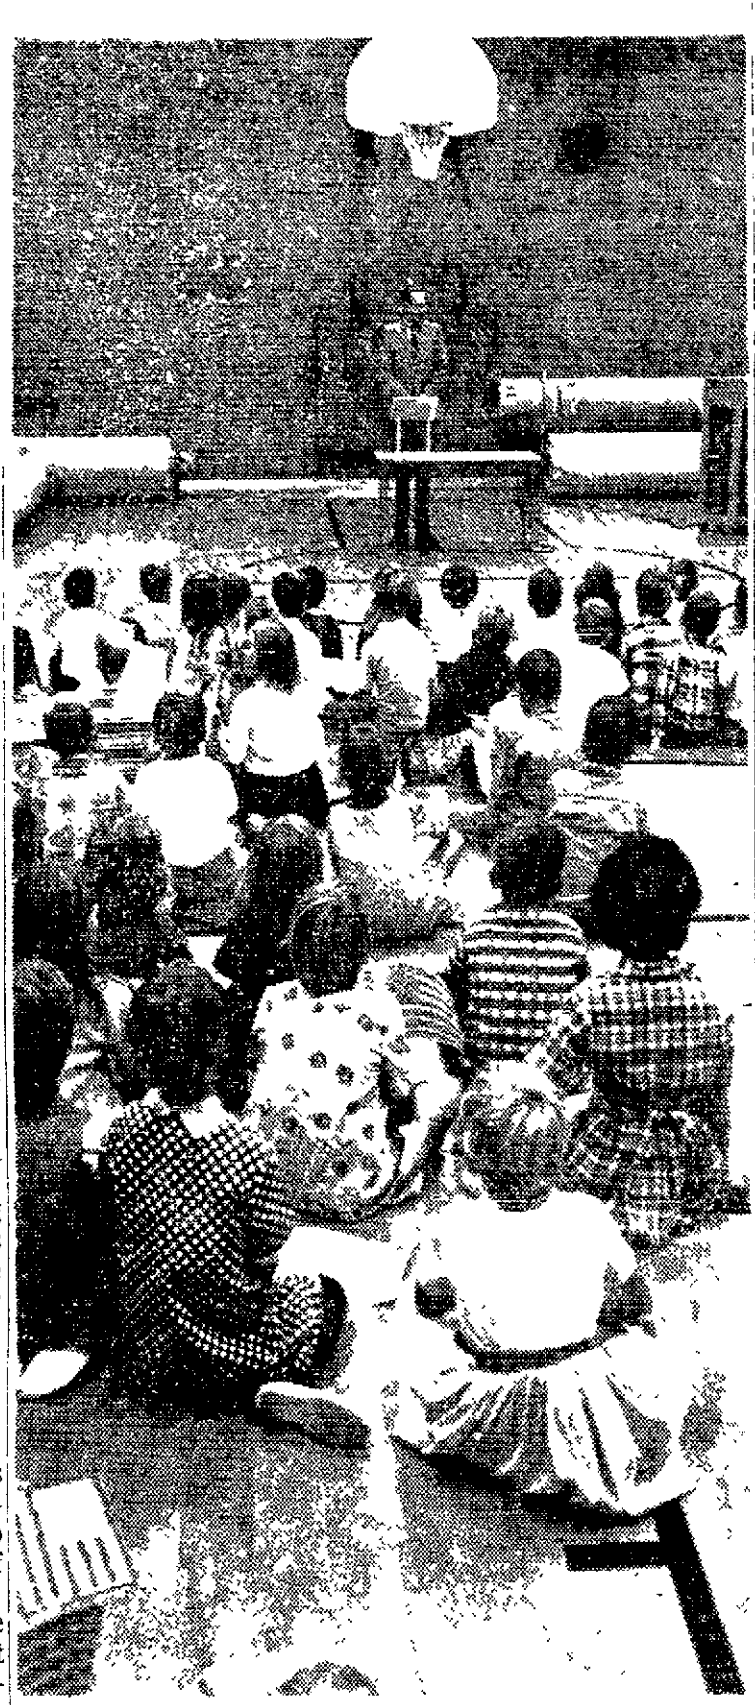

Organizations receiving awards were the Peninsula Arts Association, Ephraim, and the Wisconsin Ballet Company headquartered in Madison.

Appleton Motorist Must Pay $40 Fine

A 10-day jail sentence was ordered Friday for Paul R. Humphrey, 24, 211 N. Fair St., who pleaded guilty to a charge of driving without a license.

The mandatory jail sentence was imposed after the court learned it was Humphrey's second conviction for driving without a license. He also was fined $40 and costs or 10 days in jail for imprudent driving.

Appleton police brought both counts after Humphrey's car was involved in an accident at Memorial Drive and Third Street Sept. 21.

Wonderful Wisconsin Week observance at Neenah's Taft School took a patriotic turn Friday as the students learned a bit about the proper way to display and respect "Old Glory." Approves 1970 Sunny View Budget

OSHKOSH — The Institutions Committee of the county board, Thursday approved Sunny View Sanatorium operational expenses totaling $116,180 for 1970.

Explorer Leaders

MENASHA — Boy Scout Explorer Post 55, St. Patrick School, held an organizational meeting Tuesday night. Gary Van Hule was elected president. Other officers are Dan Coyle, vice president; Dan Spaulding, treasurer, and Tod Wirth and Joe Stuck as post representatives for the scout year.

The budget, recommended by the trustees of Winnebago and Fond du Lac counties, does not reflect salaries which are presently under negotiation.

Based on the estimated equalized valuation, Fond du Lac County, 36 per cent and Winnebago, 64 per cent, budget costs are $43,451 for Fond du Lac and $72,729 to Winnebago.

Remodeling Included in the expenditure outlay is $50,000 for remodeling of the tuberculosis wards. The county board this month approved plans for an architect's study for the remodeling. Estimated cost for remodeling, $10,000.

$108,000 Cut From Neenah School Budget

NEENAH — Another $108,000 was pared from the Neenah School operating budget Friday bringing the total reductions to within $40,000, Mayor Donald Hassler's guideline of 10 per cent over the current tax levy.

Total reductions to date have reached approximately $277,000. The board has estimated budgetary salaries because negotiations with teachers have not been completed. Salaries comprise about 70 per cent of the school budget.

The budget before Friday's session was about $6,642,450 and during the session the board members approved cuts of about $46,000 in the non-instructional area and about $70,000 in instruction.

An additional $8,000 was budgeted for appraisals of school buildings for insurance purposes. The last appraisal of the buildings was made in 1962.

Instructional area cuts included $10,500 in salaries for three secretaries; $11,700 for 3.5 elementary teachers and one transitional instructor; $3,500 for a teacher's aide; $10,000 for elimination of some summer school programs; $8,000 in summer writing and research; about $600 in sewing machines; and $25,000 for purchase of new textbooks which the board felt it could delay until 1970-71 school year.

Non-Instructional Cuts Deductions in the non-instructional area include $23,995 for refurbishing Mc Kinley School and $11,000 in transportation; $8,500 for tuck-pointing at Roosevelt School, and $3,000 for a burglar alarm unit at Neenah High.

Another budget session is scheduled early next week and Oct. 1 is the deadline for submitting the budget to the board.

Bridge Bond Issue Action Stalled Again by Committee

MADISON (AP)—The Legislature's Joint Finance Committee refused again Friday to liberate a plan for issuing $33.9 million in bonds for overhaul and replacement of 24 highway bridges.

The committee voted 8-5 to postpone consideration of the measure until next week at the earliest. Nevertheless, it appears the committee will give the bond issue an unfavorable recommendation by the time it is forwarded to the Legislature.

Sen. Chester Dempsey, R-Hartland, said the state's interstate highway network will be virtually completed when I-90 is opened in November between Tomah and La Crosse.

Action Wanted "Now all of a sudden we are told the bridges in the state are going to collapse," he said.

Gov. Warren P. Knowles has asked for swift action on the measure, saying no bridges have yet collapsed but that many are in dangerous condition. Opponents of the measure argue there are no satisfactory revenue provisions to pay off the bonds.

Criminal Center A favorable vote was given to a measure to establish a criminal identification center in the Department of Justice.

The bill, which has a price tag of $170,000 for the next two years, would aid local police in identifying wanted criminals, according to Atty. Gen. Robert Warren who appeared in behalf of the measure.

Appleton Boy Breaks Arm in Fall From Tree

Lawrence Kluball, 9, 1000 E. North St., suffered a fractured right arm and back and shoulder injuries when he fell 15 feet from a tree in front of 937 E. North Street about 3:55 p.m. Friday. He was taken to Appleton Memorial Hospital by the fire department rescue squad.

At 2:10 a.m. today, Mike Lee, 20, Brookfield, was taken to Memorial Hospital by the rescue squad for treatment of face and leg cuts he suffered when he slipped on broken glass on the sidewalk in the 800 block of W. College Avenue.

Furnace Burns Out

A burned out furnace blower motor brought four units of the Appleton Fire Department to the Robert Goss home, 1612 S. Walden Ave., late Friday morning.

Neenah Committee Decides on Street as Traffic Loop Solution

NEENAH — The Public Works Committee, not wanting to delay preparation of the city's comprehensive redevelopment plan, Friday decided to use Canal Street as the north end of the traffic loop.

The decision means that for the present time proposals to construct a street over the canal are being set aside.

The committee made its decision after hearing a fourth and fifth proposal from Dale Rice of Rice and Urban Engineers, who had originally proposed construction over the canal.

His fourth proposal was a bridge to span the canal with a bridge about 500 feet either way from N. Commercial Street to tie in with Walnut and Church Streets.

Two Ways Suggested

Rice had suggested two ways of widening Canal Street. The first was expanding the street from 30 feet wide to 60 feet wide so it could carry four lanes of traffic. The second proposal, the one chosen by the Public Works Committee, is the same as the first except the curves are flared and a new bridge surface would be built over the canal.

The cost of the proposal chosen by the committee is estimated at $543,900, compared with about $407,000 for the first proposal.

Rice's plan for filling in the canal and installing two large conduits to supply water to the Bergstrom Paper Co., had been estimated at $431,000, but this did not include purchasing the real estate from the Neenah-Menasha Water Power Company, which owns the canal.

The two new proposals submitted Friday also did not include purchase of air rights to construct a span over the canal.

Fifth Plan Proposed

Rice said the span proposal would cost about $661,590 exclusive of air right costs.

His plan would make use of steel beams driven to bedrock on either side of the canal to support the bridge.

He also proposed a fifth plan to use portions of his second and fourth schemes. He said it would be feasible to build a span over the canal but use it only for parking and reconstruction of Canal Street to be used as the major thoroughfare. He estimated this at $941,400.

The Public Works Committee, although it had indicated a preference for the third scheme of filling in the canal and using it for the street, voted to go with the less expensive plan, primarily because of the unknown cost of canal real estate or air rights.

"By going with this plan we won't be restricting ourselves because we can always decide to go north without hampering the downtown redevelopment plan," ald. Joseph Kraus said.

Needed a Decision

James Stahlman, who is preparing the city's redevelopment plan, needed a decision on which way the committee wanted to go because if it chose one of the alternatives on the canal it would give him about 1.8 acres more in the downtown to develop for parking.

By using the canal, the city could reclaim the land and be able to create 230 more parking stalls in close proximity to the downtown.

With the committee decision, Stahlman can now proceed to his final plan to redevelop the city's central business district.

Sheriff, Jail Budgets Show $12,882 Increase for 1970

OSHKOSH — A budget for the Winnebago County Sheriff and Jail Departments for 1970 totaling $482,555, $12,882 over the current budget, was approved Friday by the sheriff and coroner committee.

Operational costs for the sheriff's department were estimated at $462,615 and a budget of $19,940 has been compiled for jail operations.

As in all other county department budgets to date, new salary expenditures are not reflected in the total picture because of present negotiations. The present salary schedule was used in computing projected costs.

Sheriff Marvin Peppler requested two additional clerk-stenographers and a detective sergeant. He also urged a revision in the jail policy calling for the department to be operated by the county's administrative department rather than the sheriff's department.

The personnel request was referred to the labor relations committee.

Committee chairman E. G. Steinhilber appointed a three-man committee to study the feasibility of changing over the jail department operation.

The committee also approved a request by the sheriff to purchase $2,000 worth of additional riot control equipment for the patrolmen.

Approximately 75 per cent of the costs would be reimbursed by the federal government for the additional equipment.

Menasha Man Is Hospitalized After Being Hit by Car

MENASHA — A 34-year-old Menasha man was taken to Theda Clark Hospital by ambulance after he was struck by a car at 3 p.m. Friday at Racine and First streets.

James M. Evenson, 501 Second St., sustained cuts and bruises when hit by an auto driven by Donna J. Perras, 23, 1376 Dunning St., Menasha.

She told police she was traveling north on Racine Street and saw Evenson crossing at the crosswalk. She said she sounded her horn and attempted to stop.

Car, Tractor Collide; Neenah Man Injured

NEENAH — A 38-year-old Neenah man suffered eye cuts in a two-vehicle collision about 8:40 p.m. Friday on Union Street.

Taken to Theda Clark Hospital was Ted K. Dzwaniarski, 145 S. Richard Ave.

Dzwaniarski, driving a 1968 auto, was involved in a collision with a farm tractor being operated by Robert R. Kroll, 41, 542 Green Bay Road, Neenah.

Kroll told Neenah police that Dzwaniarski was traveling on the wrong side of the road just prior to the collision.

Duck Decoys Stolen

Howard Stumpf, 28 Weimer Court, reported to the Outagamie County Sheriff's Department Friday that between 30 and 35 duck decoys were stolen from his house trailer on the Wolf River, in the Town of Maine. Stumpf said the handmade, wood decoys were valued at $7 to $8 each.

Meet Set on Family Life Education

OSHKOSH — The Governor's Commission on the Status of Women will join forces with Oshkosh State University's extended services to present a conference on family life education Oct. 8 at the Pioneer Inn.

Cooperating in the conference are the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction and the State Board of Health.

Reservations to attend the day-long conference should be made with the OSU Division of Extended Services.

Speakers will be two recognized authorities in the field of family life education, a course which began at Oshkosh High School here this semester. There will be time for discussion and a challenge for action.

Dr. Robert Russell of Southern Illinois University will address the conference at the morning session and again at 3 p.m. A. B. Abramovitz, chief of the child behavior and development section, State Division of Health, will be the principal afternoon speaker.

Community Support

Those attending the conference will be welcomed by Dr. Kathryn Clarenback, chairman of the governor's commission, and hear a brief address by Russell C. Mosely, coordinator of curriculum development, Department of Public Instruction.

Dr. Russell's 10 a.m. talk will be on how people can be effective in their communities in stimulating support for family life education in school and home. Discussion will follow.

Speaker at the 12:15 p.m. luncheon will be Dr. David Bowman, dean of the OSU school of education.

Abramovitz will keynote the second general session at 1:30 p.m., speaking on the implications for mental health in family life education, and the conference will hear Dr. Russell in conclusion on the challenges for action.

Before joining the faculty of Southern Illinois as associate professor of health education, Dr. Russell taught at the junior high level in the area of human science. He taught marriage and family education at Stanford for two and a half years and during the summer of 1967, he instructed in family life education at the University of Hawaii.

Total Health Program

Dr. Russell is now involved with the school health education study in developing guides and materials for a total health program concept which includes family life education as part of the K-12 curriculum. He received his bachelor and graduate degrees from Stanford University.

Abramovitz is a familiar writer and lecturer in Wisconsin. He is a graduate of Bowdoin College and Columbia University. His early work was in residential psychiatric treatment clinics for adolescent boys and experimental delinquency prevention work.

After considerable experience in working with diagnosis and treatment of children's difficulties, he turned his attention to community preventive programs and health building for children as they grow up in families. He has written several books and various journal articles on child behavior and development.

The Traditional Burning of the opposing school's initial letter, in this case "N" for New London, an annual feature of Menasha High School's homecoming weekend, highlighted a Friday afternoon pep rally on the football practice field. The week-long homecoming festivities conclude today with the parade, football game against New London and dance tonight. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Byrnes Warns That Cure For Inflation Is Painful

Democrats Blamed for Problems

MENASHA — Inflation is a disease for which the cure may be painful. Eighth District Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Green Bay, told nearly 400 Republican faithfuls at a fund raising dinner Friday night sponsored by the Outagamie County, Neenah-Menasha and Oshkosh Republican clubs at Sabre Lanes.

Byrnes shared the speaker's platform with 6th District Rep. William Steiger of Oshkosh, Atty. Gen. Robert Warren of Green Bay was master of ceremonies.

The veteran Green Bay congressman, now in his 25th year in the House of Representatives, and the senior Republican on the powerful Ways and Means Committee, used the occasion to blast previous Democratic administrations which he blamed for creating today's economic problems.

"President Nixon inherited a colossal mess after eight years and less attention to words, mental reform of social policy. Americans are thinking once of Democratic control and the problems will not disappear in the immediate future," Byrnes said.

"The cure for a long Democratic drunk is a long sweating out process and the doctor may not be popular with the patient."

Too Much High Living Byrnes said inflation was the result of high living, burning the economic candle from both ends and borrowing on tomorrow to pay for today's pleasures.

Byrnes said the inflationary trend started in 1965 and 1966 under "the great 89th Congress." The cure for inflation is a slow one, Byrnes warned. "Inflation does not show its effects immediately. Similarly, when it has taken a good hold, it takes time for the cure to have any effect."

He rejected wage and price controls as a means of combating inflation. "Controls dealt with the results of inflation and not the causes," Byrnes said. The Green Bay congressman said the president's decision to order a 75 per cent cutback in federal construction programs "was not an easy one. But it is one of the penalties we must pay for what we inherited."

Byrnes warned, "You don't produce needed surpluses by cutting taxes and spending money, as did the Democrats. You do it by restraint in spending and by providing sufficient revenues and when this is done, it is not popular."

He agreed that "nobody likes to see their favorite government program cut back or a pet government project stopped, and nobody likes it when their taxes remain high or when the money supply is restrained and money becomes scarcer."

He started engineering the machinery of government has reduced apprehensions and tensions.

"We have been spared the emotional roller coaster rides Nixon's predecessor specialized in," Steiger said. "He has renounced personal or government flamboyance."

At the same time, Steiger charged the Democratic control of the local Republican-led Congress is either "unable to bring or unwilling to give the Nixon programs a fair hearing."

It can be said, however, that the crisis has been squarely faced and that there has been a vast improvement. It is a tribute to the success of the Nixon administration that a fundamental reform of social policy has been proposed and in general, what is possible and of what's wrong or impossible."

Steiger Lauds Withdrawal

MENASHA — The withdrawal of American troops from Vietnam has been the greatest single accomplishment of the Nixon administration thus far, 6th District Rep. William Steiger told Winnebago and Outagamie County Republicans Friday night.

And, the youthful congressman added, the president has succeeded in "restoring the faith of people in the effectiveness of their government."

To achieve this, Steiger said, the administration has had to give more attention to deeds than words, mental reform of social policy. Americans are thinking once of Democratic control and the problems will not disappear in the immediate future," Byrnes said.

At the same time, Steiger charged the Democratic control of the local Republican-led Congress is either "unable to bring or unwilling to give the Nixon programs a fair hearing."

Combined Fox Valley Plan

Poll Proposed on Data Bank

OSHKOSH — City Mgr. Angus Crawford proposed here Friday that municipal administrators from Kaukauna to Fond du Lac sound out their city councils on participation in the operation of a regional information system if federal funds can be procured to develop it.

What he proposed appeared to be a solution to hopes for a computerized data bank for the region, a facility long proposed by Dr. Millan Vuchich and Oshkosh State University's Department of Urban Affairs. Initial funding, so far, has been a major stumbling block.

Crawford proposed that the Fox Valley cities investigate a program of the Department of Housing and Urban Development which provides funds for a master information system and sub-components as an aid to urban planning and development.

Prime Contractor The sub-systems, Crawford said, will be developed with a city as prime contractor and will be fully by HUD grants. Commitments by the contracting city would be only for operation of the system as it proved feasible.

With deadline for grant application Oct. 31, Crawford said Friday's meeting was to find out if other valley municipalities might be interested.

Operation of the system, he emphasized, would be feasible only to the extent that municipalities could use it without spending more funds than presently in a variety of fact finding situations.

Discuss Application The Oshkosh city manager said he will meet Monday with university officials and with Dr. Wilbur A. Steger, president of a Pittsburgh, Pa., research firm, to discuss application for a systems development here.

3 Runaways From School for Boys Found in Appleton Three of four runaway youths from St. Joseph School for Boys at Green Bay were taken into custody in Appleton about noon Friday.

Police, acting on a telephone tip, apprehended two of the boys in a vacant E. Wisconsin Avenue tavern and the third boy at a N. Kenilworth Street house.

The boys, two of them 14 years old and the other 13, were placed in juvenile detention in the Outagamie County Jail pending their return to the Green Bay home which they left Thursday. The youths are from Appleton.

The fourth youth reportedly was apprehended in Winnebago County.

The three youths apprehended in Appleton said they hitchhiked here from Green Bay and slept Thursday night in an abandoned car near Wisconsin Avenue and Summit Street.

Cartridge Tapes Stolen From Car MENASHA — John M. Jandrey, 800 Bay View Road, Neenah, told police about 8:30 p.m. Friday that someone had broken into his parked car and took five cartridge tapes valued at $28 stored in the glove compartment.

Jandrey's auto was parked near the Twin City Bowl on Plank Road. He said his vehicle was locked.

AAL Ends Lease Alex's Manor House Closes Doors Friday

Alex's Manor House restaurant, which has served shoppers and downtown businessmen for 7½ years, locked its doors for the last time about midnight Friday.

The owner of the two-story structure, the Aid Association for Lutherans, terminated the lease because of other plans for the site, William H. Zuehlke, Jr., senior AAL vice president and director of investments, announced Friday.

"Because of our need for the property," he said, "it became desirable to terminate our lease agreement."

Not Disclosed "Our future plans, because they involve other things, cannot be disclosed at this time," he added.

However, he said the property had been purchased earlier this decade for possible parking space, and this would be considered in the plans for the site. "Plans are not completely defined yet," he added.

Milton Arps, owner of the Manor House, said that he decided to close up Friday because of the AAL request for termination of the lease.

Not Date Set Zuehlke indicated a definite termination date had not been set.

Arps said, however, that he would continue to operate Alex's Manor, 2318 S. Oneida St., and Alex's Edgewater Bar, 408 Water St., Menasha. He purchased the Crown in 1951, and his father-in-law had started the Edgewater in 1933.

He indicated he had no definite plans for expanding either place.

Arps said some of his Manor House employees would be absorbed in his other eating places but others would have to find new jobs.

Only if that study indicates the system would be financially feasible will he recommend that the Oshkosh Common Council apply for HUD funds, he explained. "It will have to show a good cost-benefit ratio."

He estimated the cost of a municipal data system development will run between $400,000 and $500,000. Inquiries indicate that Oshkosh and the Fox Valley may stand a good chance of qualifying for one of the four sub-component systems, he told the group.

Area planners endorsed the proposal during the Friday meeting at Robbins Restaurant.

Crawford said the approach, designed by Dr. Vuchich, will increase the interest to the HUD people in selecting this area for a reporting system.

To take full advantage of the proposal and consider participating in regional operations, it should be used by the entire region if it is to justify the outlay in federal funds.

"We cannot lose by considering this proposal," he concluded. Crawford said the opportunity for development of "a great tool to use in our daily operations" as well as in planning.

"The value lies in making present manpower and records available in usable form. Instead of records for the sake of records, we will have records for information," he said.

Crawford indicated he will act on information obtained at Monday's session either to reject the grant possibility or to recommend that the Oshkosh Common Council direct preparation of a grant application.

Once the Oct. 31 deadline is met, he pointed out, there will be plenty of time for valley municipalities to evaluate the proposal and consider participating in regional operations.

Members of the Outagamie County Board's law enforcement committee reacted favorably Friday to a request that "student policemen" be allowed to work part-time in the sheriff's department.

The request was made by Charles Collins, law enforcement training coordinator for Fox Valley Technical Institute.

The "students" for whom he is seeking part-time police employment are enrolled in a new, two-year law enforcement course offered through the school. Graduates will earn associate degrees in law enforcement, Sheriff Calvin L. Spice explained to the committee.

On-Job Training Spice said that as part of their on-the-job training program, an attempt is being made to place the students in various Fox Valley police agencies.

During most of the school year, Spice said, the trainees would work with police three hours a day, five days a week. They probably would work more hours in the summer, when school is not in session, he explained.

The county is being asked to pay the police apprentices in the sheriff's department $2.50 per hour. At least a partial uniform also would have to be furnished. Spice estimated the total annual cost to the county a $3,600.

Since many of the students probably are under 21 years of age, they would not be allowed to perform some police functions alone, Spice explained. He said he doubted if they would be allowed to carry guns.

The committee felt that the Institute program could provide a much-needed source of police manpower in the Fox Valley.

Post Office Should Proceed Byrnes Optimistic About New Building Despite U. S. Cutback

Appleton's new post office should have a good chance of proceeding on schedule despite the 75 per cent cutback in federal construction ordered by President Richard Nixon.

This was the word Friday from 8th District Rep. John Byrnes (R-Green Bay).

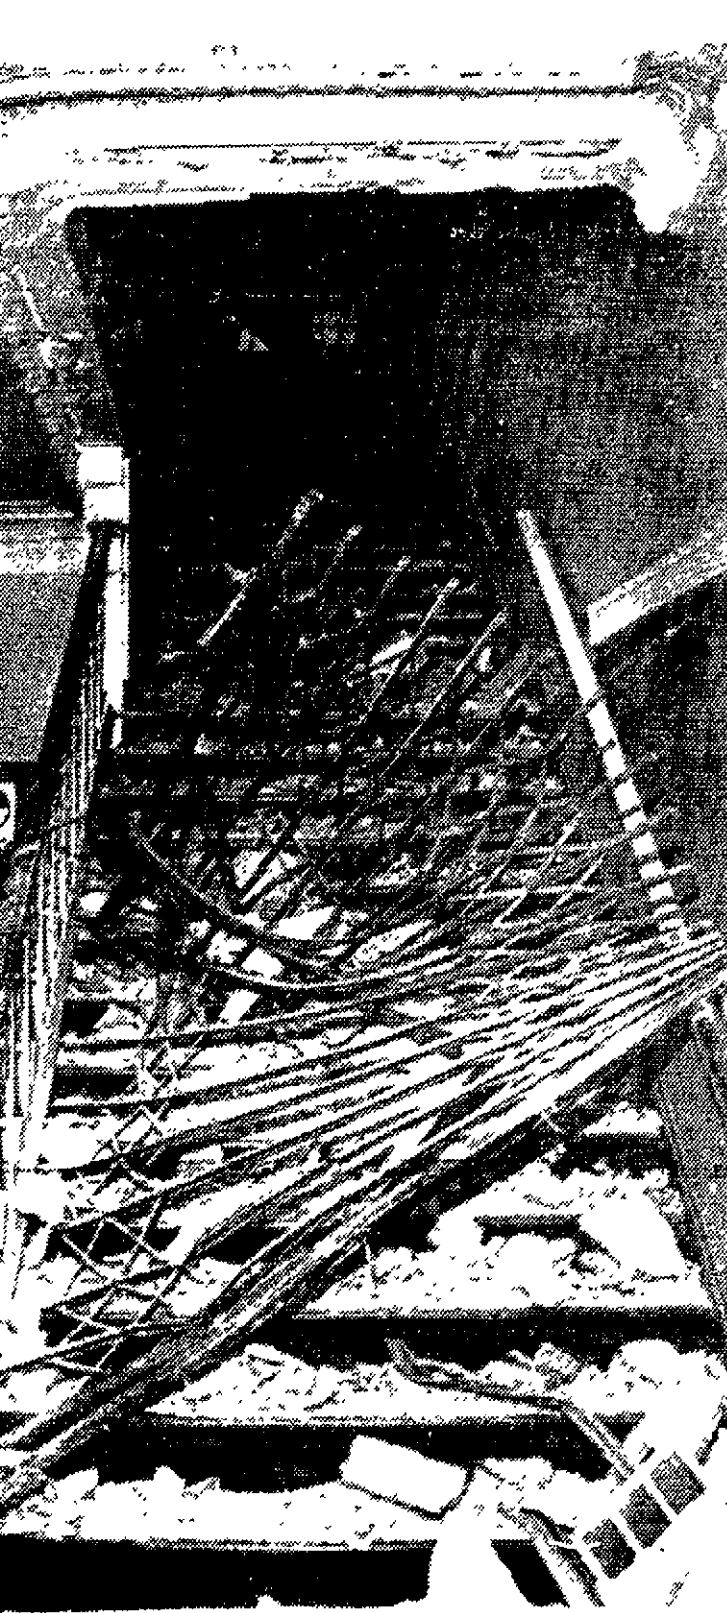

At the same time, 6th District Rep. William Steiger (R-Oshkosh), said he expected to learn Monday the fate of the planned regional post office facility at the Winnebago County Airport.

Byrnes said he has been "pushing hard" for the Appleton post office because of long-standing need here for a new facility.

He added that he doubted any construction priority list would be released by the post office department but that they would simply go ahead on the needed projects.

The Appleton facility is scheduled to be built on a site along Division Street.

The multi-million dollar regional center at Oshkosh is to be built on property at the Winnebago County Airport along 20th Street, near the airport terminal.

Debris From a Bomb Explosion on the second floor of the Federal Building in downtown Milwaukee litters stairs and corridors. No one was injured in the blast at 2:30 a.m. Friday, believed to have been caused by a quantity of dynamite, with a timing device. The explosion blew out one wall, knocked plaster off of others, caved
